U. S. Maintains Atomic Lead Nine Years After Hiroshima

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON (AP)—On Aug. 6, 1945, at 9:15 a.m., an atomic fireball flashed over Hiroshima, Japan, and 128,150 people were killed, injured, maimed or burned.

One bomb . . . 78,150 dead or dying . . . 50,000 injured . . . a city virtually wiped out . . . and soon a nation forced to quick surrender by the appalling power of the atom.

BUT HIROSHIMA was only the popgun phase of the young Atomic Age. Nine years and 12 billion dollars later, the popgun of Hiroshima had become a weapon so dreadful that it could—and did—blow a mile-wide hole, 175 feet deep, in the coral floor of the Pacific Ocean. The crater was big enough to hold 140 buildings the size of the nation's Capitol.

This was done with a 1952-model hydrogen device which without doubt has undergone a good many refinements since then as a weapon of total destruction. The Hiroshima bomb had an explosive power equal to 20,000 tons of TNT. The hydrogen bomb TNT equivalent runs into the millions of tons.

On this ninth anniversary of Hiroshima, where does the United States stand in the world of the atom? Here is a brief rundown.

The most fearful development perhaps is that the United States has lost the monopoly on the atomic bomb which existed in August 1945. At that time this country alone had the weapon which could have brought military mastery of the world—had this nation been a land bent on conquest. Now Russia has mastered the scientific and industrial techniques of manufacturing atomic weapons.

Today it's a race between Russia and the United States for atomic supremacy. American experts say the United States has the lead—but a lead that is being narrowed by the Russians. Great Britain, too, has an advanced program and has exploded an atomic bomb.

THE BOMBS which dropped on Hiroshima and three days later on Nagasaki perhaps were the only two completed atomic bombs in the American stockpile at that

Distillery Fire Under Control; Leaves 6 Dead

Damage Totals More Than Seven Million; Repair Work Begins

PEKIN, Ill. (AP)—Bulldozers lunged at heaps of smoldering debris today in a rush job to get the fire-scarred American Distilling Co. plant cleaned up for near full-scale resumption of whisky making Monday.

A spectacular two-day fire that killed six persons, injured 33 and caused more than $7,500,000 damage was brought under control last night.

The searing blue flame ate up from 90,000 to 110,000 barrels of aging whisky—enough liquor to fill more than 22 million ordinary fifth gallon whisky bottles or a half billion standard one-ounce bar shot glasses.

This cost Uncle Sam at least $47,250,000 in potential alcohol tax collections—whisky being taxed at the rate of $10.50 a gallon as it is withdrawn from bonded warehouses.

However, Russell R Brown of Greenich, Conn., company president who hurried to the scene, said the fire loss to his firm was fully covered by insurance.

He announced plans to have pro-

White House May Seek Ban On Atom Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House today was reported considering applying for an 80-day court injunction under the Taft-Hartley Law to ban a threatened new strike of key atomic workers.

Should they so decide, federal attorneys could seek the court order almost at once because they cleared legal preliminaries for the same case last month.

Government efforts to spur a wage settlement in the four-month-old dispute involving CIO workers at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Paducah, Ky., collapsed last night.

Chief government mediator Whiley P. McCoy said, "there's no progress—so what's the use of further meetings?" He said it appears that President Eisenhower would have to consider ordering the Justice Department to obtain

Japanese Pray

Sirens' Scream, Tolling Of Bells Marks A-Blast

HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP) — The bells of Hiroshima tolled today for the awful hour of nine years ago.

It was 8:15 a.m. when the first atomic bomb ever loosed in warfare burst with frightful fury over Hiroshima.

Sirens Scream

It was 8:15 a.m. today when massed sirens screamed their protest to the memory. Then the church bells of Hiroshima rang out, calling the Japanese of this city to prayer.

Mayor Shinzo Hamai, who lived through that day, presided as thousands of citizens gathered in the center of the city for a memorial service.

He prayed that "there will be no more war, and no more human beings atomized." He had been lucky on that day. He was three miles away from the center of the blast.

Now the scars of the bomb are gone, except for the gnarled skeleton of steel which was all that was left of Memorial Hall.

The rebuilt homes are flimsy and the streets are rutted. But the city seems to be on its feet again, mentally and materially.

Only 90,000 out of the population of 350,000 were here on that day. The rest are newcomers to this commercial town. They don't know.

Council Member Remembers

Kiyoichi Tsuchoka, member of the city council remembers. He was only 1,300 yards from the blast center and his body is scarred by burns.

"I saw the great flash," he recalled. "The next moment I was blown several yards. I staggered back and thought I saw a second wave—a heat wave—which set fire to my shirt. I ripped off the burning shirt and ran to my home

"The house was flattened and my wife was crying 'help, help' from under the debris. I was injured and could not lift the heavy beams and pillars that pinned her down. I looked around for help.

"I saw only dead bodies strewn around. I had to leave my dying wife because fire was spreading. Her voice still rings in my ears."

Prof. Kanae Watanabe of Hiroshima University was also only 1,000 yards away but escaped without a scratch.

"I was in the library when the bomb exploded," he said. "Perhaps the books shielded me I ran into the hall after the explosion and saw three of my colleagues dead, their skulls split open."

Watanabe found his wife and son unharmed in the suburbs, although their home was knocked down.

"I guess," he said, "we are the luckiest of all the citizens of Hiroshima."

Mechanicsburg Chief Captures Young Escapee

MECHANICSBURG, Ohio (AP) — Carl Castle, 19, who escaped Wednesday from the Madison County jail after overpowering an elderly guard, was captured here today by Mechanicsburg Police Chief Bill Flora

Castle is wanted in Florida and Ohio for armed robbery, burglary and breaking and entering.

Chief Flora captured Castle at the south end of town and took him to the town jail. Sheriff Harold Bidwell of Madison County and his deputies are to return him to London.

All central Ohio law enforcement officers had been on the alert in an attempt to capture the man.

Both Groups Claim Farm Plan Victory

Knowland and Young Factions Seek Vote in Price Support Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both sides claimed victory today in the hot Senate dispute over high rigid vs. flexible farm price supports.

As the Senate launched its third day of debate on farm legislation, GOP Leader Knowland said he still hopes for a vote today on the key issue of price supports.

Sen. Young (R-ND), a leader of the forces seeking to continue rigid supports, said: "I think we are going to win now—there have been some switches."

Knowland Strikes Back

Knowland, fighting for the Eisenhower administration's proposals for flexible and lower price supports, scoffed at Young's claim.

"We have two or three switches, too," Knowland commented.

Knowland added that both sides were anxious to have a vote on the issue.

Sens. Bridges (R-NH) and Payne (R-Maine) jumped into the debate today on the side of the administration.

Bridges, a one time agricultural teacher and county agent, said the administration program "will stop the senseless raid on the taxpayers . . . to please a vociferous few."

Holland Questions Claim

With six or eight votes apparently controlling the Senate fate of the Eisenhower administration's plan for flexible price supports, Sen. Holland (D-Fla.) questioned Young's claim and noted that even a Senate vote for rigid props would not be final. Holland, who supports the administration on the issue, said in a separate interview.

"They can't win even if they win a Senate test. The President would veto any extension of rigid supports and the whole issue is subject to a conference."

That was a reference to a compromise-seeking conference with the House, which has passed a modified version of the administration program, to be held after the Senate okays its bill.

That appeared to be many thousands of words of oratory away There have been two full days of debate and still there remained, on a pad on Vice President Nixon's desk, the names of 18 senators who want to speak on the issue.

Ready for Vote

Critics of the proposal for flexible price supports, for whom Young is unofficial spokesman, have done most of the talking so far, perhaps in hope of picking up a few votes before an actual test.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt), floor manager for the administration bill and chairman of the agriculture committee, said his camp is ready for a vote.

Plant Disciplines Workers in Lima

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Some 2,000 members of Local 724, United Electrical Workers (CIO) have been handed a disciplinary one-day layoff at the Westinghouse small motor plant here.

The layoff today, the company announced, stemmed from incidents yesterday in which workers on two shifts walked off their jobs early to attend mass meetings.

The union voted during the meetings to strike if present contract negotiations fail. The negotiations are being conducted on a national scale. One Westinghouse shift quit work an hour and a half early yesterday, and another a half hour early, company spokesmen said.

Senators Who Will Probe McCarthy 'Censure' Case Agree on Public Hearing

McCARTHY CENSURE PANEL RUNS INTO DISPUTE. Vice President Richard Nixon (seated, center) meets with a panel of six senators named to report on censure charges against Sen. Joseph McCarthy. No sooner did the senators meet than their duties became a matter of dispute. Named to the committee were (seated, left) Senators Arthur Watkins (R-Utah) and Edwin Johnson (D-Col) (right). Standing are (from left) Senators Francis Case (R-SD), Frank Carlson (R-Kan), John Stennis (D-Miss) and Sam Ervin Jr. (D-NC).

Chairman's Job Given to Sen. Watkins

Johnson of Colorado Also Gets Post After Discussion With Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) today was chosen chairman of the special Senate committee to look into proposals that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) be censured for alleged conduct unbecoming a senator.

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) was named vice-chairman of the group, composed of three Republicans and three Democrats.

Sen. Stennis (D-Miss), a member, said these were the major decisions made in a closed session with Vice President Nixon lasting nearly two hours.

Watkins is the senior Republican on the committee and Johnson is the senior Democrat.

Today's meeting left still unsettled the question of just how the committee will go about its assignment.

In public or private statements, most of the members have indicated a general belief the hearings should be open to the public but with some reins to avoid a "vaudeville show."

They said they did not want a repetition of the televised and brightly lighted McCarthy-Army hearings.

The subcommittee which conducted those 36 days of stormy sessions planned a meeting of its own today to seek agreement on machinery for writing a report.

And McCarthy himself went ahead with his own investigation of what he terms widespread Communist infiltration of defense plants.

McCarthy announced the investigations subcommittee he heads would question witnesses from the Boston area in a resumption of that probe today. He declined to say in advance who the witnesses would be or what plants were involved.

The six senators drafted to make the new study of McCarthy's behavior, including his controversial Red-hunting methods, were named yesterday by Vice President Nixon. Members had been recommended by the Republican and Democratic Policy Committees of the Senate

The special committee was created Monday night by a Senate resolution instructing it "to act and to make a report" on a move to censure McCarthy made by Sen.

Police Say Mayor's Story Adds Names to List of 'Other' Women

CLEVELAND (AP)—Police said today a new statement by Mayor J. Spencer Houk of suburban Bay Village has added considerably to details about Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard's extra-marital love life.

The statement, however, contributed nothing toward a solution of the hack-slaying of the osteopath's 31-year-old wife, Marilyn, Deputy Inspector James E. McArthur reported.

McArthur also said complete laboratory and scientific tests of the Sheppard home in the prosperous Bay Village suburb indicate "somebody ran around after the murder like a chicken with his head cut off."

Sen. Kefauver Wins 3 to 1 in Primary Vote

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver kept his position as a presidential possibility yesterday as he and Gov. Frank Clement won assured re-election by crushing majorities in Tennessee's Democratic primary.

The winner of the Republican senatorial primary was Ray H. Jenkins, the Army-McCarthy hearing special counsel who didn't seek the nomination and said he wouldn't run if he got it.

3 to 1 Margin

The figures from 2,205 of Tennessee's 2,591 precincts tell the Democratic primary story:

Senate: Kefauver 359,053; Rep. Pat Sutton 152,396.

Governor: Clement 404-370; Former Gov. Gordon Browning 164,304; Judge Raulston Schoolfield, 25,031.

Kefauver, who won most of the Democratic primaries and lost in the convention in the 1952 presidential derby, said yesterday's victory over Sutton was a triumph over isolationism.

Sutton, who conducted a fast-paced helicopter campaign between marathon radio-television broadcasts, conceded shortly before midnight, saying he held "no ill will or malice."

Boss Crump Neutral

Memphis political boss E H. Crump, who sustained his first big political defeat in 1948 when Kefauver first was elected to the Senate, maintained a neutral stand in the Senate race this year, although Sutton said Crump had agreed to pass a quiet word in his behalf.

Reveals Army Report Lists Officers Aiding In Release of Peress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) said today a secret Army report names 30 officers, five of them generals, as having "active" roles in granting an honorable discharge to Maj. Irving Peress

Peress is the New York dentist whose career as a reserve Army officer came under investigation by McCarthy last year. Peress declined to answer questions from McCarthy as to whether he had ever had subversive connections. McCarthy called him a "Fifth Amendment Communist."

During the McCarthy-Army hearings, McCarthy repeatedly referred to the case and demanded to know who was responsible for what he termed the "promotion and honorable discharge of this Fifth

U.S. Officials Shrug Off China's Rebuff on Protest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Communist China's double dismissal of American protests was shrugged off by top U.S. officials today as a gesture which could not erase the record made against the Reds.

Protest notes were sent to Peiping through the British government over a week ago to register anger at the killing of three Americans in a British airliner shot down by Communist fighters July 23 off Red-held Hainan Island. The United States demanded punishment of those guilty of the attack and compensation for the three Americans killed and three others injured.

The Reds rejected this protest as well as one against attacks on American fighters by two Red fighter aircraft. The protest against the fighter attacks was strictly for the record since American planes shot down the two Red aircraft.

In a second note on Wednesday, the United States renewed the protest and demands for compensation. Washington told the Chinese that British ownership of the plane did not relieve Red China of responsibility for the deaths of the Americans. Peiping announced yesterday that the Reds, who have apologized to Britain and offered to pay damages, again refused the American note.

Officials here said other steps were under consideration, but that rejection of the protests was relatively unimportant for these reasons:

1. The United States made its real reaction known when it dispatched two aircraft carriers to the trouble area immediately after the July 23 attack on the airliner and—whatever the provocation—shot down two Chinese fighter planes. It was suggested that was strong action which the Reds would readily understand.

2. The protest notes themselves, along with other official actions, have sought to make clear to gov-

Alabama Manhunt Continues

Anti-Vice Drive Closes Up 'City of Sin'

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP) — The gunman who murdered crime-fighter Albert L. Patterson on the fateful night of June 18 is still a wanted fugitive despite seven weeks of the greatest manhunt in Alabama history.

But the three shots fired into Patterson's body have exploded again and again in an unrelenting war on vice and racketeering that has made this storied city of sin a virtual ghost town.

Honky-Tonks Closed

The brightly lighted cafes and honky-tonks where carefree soldiers from nearby Ft. Benning, Ga., spent millions of dollars a year on gambling, prostitution and other lurid frolics have been closed outright or put on short rations.

Their liquor and beer licenses have been suspended. Many of the gaudy night spots have been padlocked by raiding National Guardsmen who found hundreds of slot machines, lottery tickets, crooked dice, and telltale hypodermic needles and vials which gave evidence of narcotics traffic.

The troops have taken over all law enforcement functions in Phenix City and most of Russell County, stripping the civilian police of even the right to carry guns. That was done under an unprecedented limited martial law proclaimed by Gov. Gordon Persons.

Except for police duties, however, other civilian offices—including the courts—were left untouched by military rule.

In almost daily arrests, the steel-helmeted troops and reinforced squads of state highway patrolmen have brought more than 50 persons into custody, including two public officials, two civilian deputy sheriffs and one of the reputed vice lords.

Charged With Neglect

Other gambling big shots have been called in for questioning

Phenix City's Mayor Elmer Reese was arrested on charges of wilful neglect of duty because of the gambling which went on.

Circuit Solicitor Arch Ferrell, the county's ousted criminal prosecutor, was jailed for drunkenness, fined $100 for drunk driving and his driver's license suspended.

Also Under Indictment

Ferrell, who already had been relieved of duty, also is under indictment along with two others on charges of vote manipulation in an effort to defeat the anti-vice crusading Patterson in the June 1 Democratic primary runoff election.

Patterson, promising to rid Phenix City of organized vice and lawlessness, was nominated for attorney general of Alabama but was assassinated before he could take office.

Indicted with Ferrell were the state's highest legal officer, Atty Gen. Si Garrett, and Lamar Reid, chairman of the Jefferson County (Birmingham) Democratic Executive Committee, who resigned following the indictment.

Garrett recently was seriously injured in a car wreck and now is in a Waynesboro, Miss., hospital with a broken neck.

Gambling czar Godwin Davis Sr., another of those arrested in the mushrooming vice cleanup in Phenix City, spent six days in jail before he could raise bond of $22,000 on 44 gambling charges. His son, Godwin Jr., picked up on similar charges, made his bond after 72 hours.

Grand Jury's Report

Chief Deputy Sheriff Albert Fuller, whose flair for wide-brimmed hats and ornate pistols made him almost a legendary figure in Phenix City, was charged with violating Alabama's election laws by unlawfully influencing voters in the recent primary.

Another deputy, Aaron Smith, was arrested later on similar charges.

The grand jury which Indicted Ferrell, Garrett and Reid on the

Mrs. Moss Hits Charges, Denies Carrying Card

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs Annie Lee Moss was quoted today as denying she ever saw a Communist party membership book which her attorney says caused her second suspension from an Army Signal Corps job.

Mrs Moss swore several months ago before a subcommittee headed by Sen McCarthy (R-Wis) that she never had been a Communist

The office of George E C Hayes the woman's lawyer, said yesterday new particulars filed by the Army's security screening board this week contained only one new charge It alleged she was reported to have been given Communist party membership book 37269 for 1943 '

Mrs Moss will enter a complete denial of all charges within the allotted 30 days, Hayes office said

The Army had announced reopening her case on the basis of information 'not previously available Mrs Moss was restored to her $3 335-a-year job after testifying at one of the hearings McCarthy called into what he termed Army coddling of Communists

Wyandot Meat Firm Expands Rapidly

FROZEN MEATS are proving to be a profitable enterprise for the Wyandot Meat Products Inc, located on the northern edge of Wyandot Under the management of George G Lichvarik the plant has grown from a small chipped-beef firm into one of the leading frosted steak plants in this section of the country

UPPER Workers apply butter to the special buttered beef steaks which are one of the leading products of the firm as Lichvarik (center rear) watches

LOWER The latest product of Wyandot is a Bar B Kwik steak Here Lichvarik watches workers apply the special barbecue sauce which blends into the meat while cooking Keeping a close eye on the proceedings is Ralph Wescott (rear) federal meat inspector in the area

Frozen Steaks Popular; Barbecue Product Is Introduced

By JOHN ROBSON

Frozen meats which were a rarity in the nation about five years ago are now one of the most popular dishes on many American tables and are the reason why the Wyandot Meat Products Inc has grown to be one of the major meat freezing plants in this part of the country

Located just inside Wyandot near Nevada the plant produces frosted cube steaks veal and pork steaks buttered beef steaks and a new item on the market Bar B Kwik Steaks which have a special barbecue sauce added

THE LAST PRODUCT is brand new with the firm which has been in operation since 1949 The first shipment of the Bar B Kwiks left the plant Monday

Most of the business done at the plant is for home use About 25 per cent of the production is used by institutions restaurants and hospitals but the other 75 per cent goes into the home

Some 40 000 packages of frosted steaks can be produced at the plant each week With each package weighing one half pound that means 20 000 pounds of meat must be processed in each five day period

George G Lichvarik general manager of the plant said he felt his new Bar - B - Kwik products would soon have as much popularity as the buttered and cube steaks

Meat is shipped in from the Quality Packing Co in Detroit It must be federally inspected at the shipping plant and then is under federal supervision through its steps at the local firm Handling the job on the local end is Ralph Wescott federal meat inspector of Marion

When the meat is received at the Wyandot plant it is ground and stuffed into special cellophane-like containers known as logs The logs are then frozen in a quick freeze room in which the temperature is kept at 15 degrees below zero

FROM THE QUICK FREEZE the logs which contain 12 pounds of meat each are sent to tempering rooms where the temperature is raised to a point which will permit them to be cut

After cutting the meat is pressed and prepared with butter being applied to the buttered steaks packed and put in a room in which the temperature is maintained at zero

In this form it is ready for shipment Right now the largest markets for Wyandot products are in Ohio and Michigan However this week the company sent its first shipment of meat to Knoxville Tenn Meat is also sent to West Virginia and New York

Lichvarik expressed the hope the new southern market may prove as profitable as the present locations

Plans for increasing the size of the plant are now in progress At a recent meeting of the board of directors the members discussed the possibility of adding a new section to the existing plant

A new product pork and veal city chickens is also being planned These would be made by machine and consist of the same products used by butchers in their city chickens

THE PROCESS of making the buttered steaks and other products derived from the logs takes about three days in its entirety

Cube steaks which are made from whole meats are not frozen before grinding and can be made in one day

All 30 employes of the plant are from Marion Bucyrus and Harpster They work a regular five-day week which according to Lichvarik is busy at all times

The plant started as a chipped beef steak manufacturing concern and slaughter house Now the original product is no longer a major item for the firm

Quality Packing Co which supplies all the Wyandot meat is in the same organization as the local plant Lawrence Weiss is president of both Quality and Wyandot.

The building used by Wyandot is a converted slaughter house At first plans were to continue to use it as a slaughter house and freezing plant but when the demand for the frozen products became so great the slaughtering-house was converted into freezing space

An electrically controlled mechanism allows workers to place meats and logs into the quick freezer without entering the cold room Cars and revolving shelves move automatically at the press of a button permitting the workers to remain outside of the cold room

A BLAST FREEZER results in extra-quick freezing of the meats From the time they are placed in the freezer until they are thoroughly frozen, takes only about 20 minutes

Creamery butter of the same quality as used by housewives on their tables is used in the preparation of the buttered steaks

The barbecue sauce used on the new Bar B Kwik steaks is prepared from a special formula in laboratories in Chicago Both the butter and sauce are applied to the meats just before packaging

With the increase in business of the firm the names of Wyandot and Nevada which is the post-office for the plant have been becoming well known throughout this section of the United States

Atom Bomb

time Now there are baby bombs atomic artillery shells guided missile warheads and the hydrogen giants such as the one exploded in the Pacific during the 1952 tests The stockpile may now run into the thousands

Some military men believe these weapons have become so horrible in their destructive power that no nation will ever dare the gamble of atomic war But the fear that it may happen still drives this country forward in the race for atomic supremacy

Something like 90 per cent of the billions poured into atomic development is for purposes of war and defense But even though the emphasis is on weapons of war huge strides have been made in the direction of using the atom's fantastic energy for peace

A by product of the weapons program is that hundreds of scientists and engineers in the industrial world—working with the government in the atomic energy program — have gained important knowledge and experience in the peaceful use of nuclear energy

And there is as much of a race for supremacy in the peaceful use of the atom—although far less dramatic—as there is in the weapons field No industrial nation competing in the world markets can afford to be far outstripped in the use of this potentially cheap source of power

ONE POUND of uranium in a cube just one inch square has potentially usable energy equal to 2 600 000 pounds of coal How to harness this energy to engines is a problem that is under steady attack by the best scientific and engineering minds around the world

More than a score of nations have set up atomic energy programs—the great majority devoted solely to exploring the peaceful uses of nuclear energy Twelve European nations have established a cooperative nuclear research organization with headquarters at Geneva Switzerland

The use of nuclear energy to produce electric power no longer is a dream It has been done—and the problem now is to figure a way to make this atomic fuel produce power as cheaply or cheaper than coal

The United States has an atomic submarine which it is believed will be able to travel thousands of miles with no need of refueling

A land based prototype of the atomic engine according to a recent Senate House Atomic Energy Committee report has already produced more than enough power to send an atomic submarine around the world submerged at full speed

There are visions too that in the not-distant future ships and airplanes will be powered by nuclear energy and that atomic powerhouses will bring cheap electricity to industrial areas and to remote regions where fuel costs now are almost prohibitive

The government expects to have an atomic power plant operating in two or three years—but no one can say yet how economical such a plant will be

Industry and the medical world have found a multitude of uses for the atom In fact a sizable atomic industry ' has grown up to supply materials and equipment to those using radioactive material

All these things have happened in the nine years since Hiroshima and it is only the beginning Even with all their advances scientists are aware that the nucleus of the atom still holds many secrets they have not plumbed

The race will go to those who discover those secrets first — and then are able to change theory into the reality of a practical operation

At this point the experts say the United States still is out in front

Calls Lausche Record 'One of Deceit'; Will Meet Him in Debate

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP) — State Auditor James A Rhodes his campaign for governor officially in full swing has agreed to meet Gov Frank J Lausche on the same platform in a Cleveland debate Oct 19

Rhodes' announcement that he had accepted an invitation to speak with Lausche at the Greater Cleveland Knights of Columbus luncheon club preceded his first major campaign address last night at Coalton

In his speech Rhodes said Lausche's record was one of deceit political maneuvering and a brazen grasp for personal power It is a record of many many promises and in one respect it is 100 per cent He hasn't kept one

Lausche promised that as governor one of his first acts would be to initiate a program of adequate housing for the mentally ill Rhodes said He added

'After four terms in office even more deplorable conditions exist in Ohio's ramshackle mental institutions Despite the fact that Lausche has been given more money by the Legislature than he asked for inmates today must sleep in the halls basements closets and under the beds

'I will toss out the snakepit philosophy that dominates present administration of Ohio mental institutions and make full use of modern new structures which now stand idle Emphasis will be placed on rehabilitation Use of physical restraints will be minimized as recommended by the American Psychiatric Assn '

Cites Liquor Scandal

Rhodes attacked Lausche on points ranging from highways to schools and from liquor control to conservation

Pointing to the current investigation of alleged shakedowns of liquor permit holders by members of the state liquor control department, Rhodes pledged

" I will rid the liquor department of bribery and shakedown scandals by replacing political hacks with honest and qualified enforcement agents '

That conclusion came after the elder Davis told the jurors he and his pals gave Porter $72 600

Patterson had planned to appear before the grand jury to tell what he knew but was slain a few hours after he made that known

An emergency grand jury has been called back into session at Phenix City Monday to start hearing testimony about the rackets which flourished before Patterson's death and to prosecute the killer if he is found

The jury was empaneled after Gov Persons forced the resignations of the old Jury Commission and a special judge threw out the entire jury box so fresh names would be available

McCarthy announced that he and fellow members of his Senate Investigations subcommittee had broken the seal on an envelope containing an Army report on the case which had been submitted by the Pentagon during the McCarthy-Army hearings

McCarthy said the list gave the names of a full general two major generals two brigadier generals three colonels two lieutenant colonels and a major in addition to others of lower rank He said some of them will be called before him as witnesses for questioning under oath

McCarthy said that 'after all this time . this lengthy investigation by the Army inspector general it (the report) doesn't show who was at fault' in promoting and discharging Peress

The implication is that they all were at fault ' he said

'This at least shows it was not just the incidental discharge of a Communist "

Bureau Claims Lamb Aided Communists in Speech Here in 1934

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission's Broadcast Bureau said today it has information indicating that publisher Edward Lamb of the Erie Pa Dispatch once knowingly associated with Communists and contributed funds to the Communist Party

Lamb has repeatedly denied any such charges

The bureau's chief Curtis B Plummer made the statement in a resume of evidence he has supplied to Lamb in connection with the FCC's investigation to determine whether to renew the license of Lamb's television station in Erie WICU

The resume also alleged that Lamb was at one time a member or sponsor of five organizations now listed by the attorney general as subversive

The Erie publisher who has various broadcasting interests over the country said in sworn testimony before the Senate Commerce Committee in June this year

'I have never directly or indirectly been associated with been a member of a contributor or a sympathizer in any respect with the Communist Party, any place at any time'

Early this year when the FCC ordered an inquiry to find out if Lamb had ever made misrepresentations or concealed facts from the commission Lamb publicly offered a $10 000 reward to anyone able to [illegible] his non-Communist affidavits

Lamb also demanded that the commission give him a bill of particulars The commission directed the Broadcast Bureau to prepare a summary without supplying details of its sources of information

Bureau Chief Plummer's summary said the information in the possession of the commission was furnished the commission by persons who will testify in this proceeding It added that [illegible] the sworn representation and averments of Edward Lamb the information is of true [illegible]

That Lamb during the period 1931 1948 knowingly associated with members of the Communist Party and more particularly during the period 1934 1940 knowingly associated with officials of the Communist Party in Toledo, Ohio (Lamb's home)

That at a gathering in M[illegible] Ohio in 1934 he urged the formation of certain organizations in that area one of which organizations was to function secretly under the leadership and direction of the Communist Party '

That he was solicited for funds for the Communist Party in Toledo in or around the year 1934 and made contributions

That in 1936 1944 the executive board of the party in Lucas County Ohio considered him as a source of funds

That he made further contributions to the party during 1944 1948 and in the latter year assisted a so-called party defense fund

That he was regarded in 1944 1948 by certain Communist Party officials as being subject to Communist Party discipline and for a time during the period 1947 1948 the acting chairman of the Lucas County Communist Party organization was under official instruction to contact Edward Lamb among others in the event the party required his assistance '

That on or about Sept 18 1944 he was one of the principal speakers at the dedication of the Communist Political Ass'n's Toledo headquarters

Footnote

SOKOLSKY

Perhaps it is fitting to add a footnote to the McCarthy-Stevens hearings and to say something about Sen. Karl Mundt who bore the heaviest burden of presiding over his colleagues who, by the rules of the Senate, are sovereign each in his own right and none needs pay the slightest attention to the chairman if he chooses not to and his manners are such.

Karl Mundt also faced the technical problem that Sen. McCarthy, a principal in the case, acting as counsel for his side, was also a United States senator who could not be deprived of his rights as a United States senator by the committee. Each senator sat not only as a judge and jury but as a prosecuting attorney with rights of examination and cross - examination and with the additional right to make a speech of summation whenever he chose. And many of them did.

The only rule that all agreed upon and lived up to was the 10 minute rule which meant that after a 10 minute period of interrogation or speech-making, a senator would subside until his next turn came around unless he had a point of order to make which some made pointlessly or unless he rose to a matter of personal privilege which often consumed hours.

PRESIDING under such circumstance, with the television grinding away constantly, under the physical heat of kleig lights and the psychological heat engendered not only by mounting ambition but by vindictive hatred, was a very tough job.

Some suggest that Mundt might have banged the gavel more often to shut his colleagues up It would have been a fruitless exercise.

The task of the presiding officer was to prevent the hearings from going altogether haywire and to keep angry members of the Senate from either beating up each other verbally, which they did, or physically which they did not do.

At times, it was anticipated that one or the other of them might have walked out, but that was not in the plan.

Were the chairman not a voting member of the committee, an outsider, an impartial person, he might have had an easier time of it, but Chairman Mundt could not shirk his responsibilities as a committee member and also a part of what was, at first, the Republican majority and in due course became the Republican minority upon the defection of Sen Charles Potter.

Curiously, I have met Sen. Potter only once and that was in the apartment of G. David Schine's parents at the Waldorf-Astoria.

IN ALL THESE circumstances, it seems to me that Karl Mundt did a remarkably good job and if his reputation as a senator and his stature in his party have been enhanced, he is deserving.

I can say something of the difficulties involved in such a task because I was one of those called into executive session to testify as to what I know about this affair. I was present at the luncheon at the Merchants Club in New York on November 17 as a guest, I assume, of Secretary of the Army Stevens who paid the bill; I had had a private talk with Secretary of the Army Stevens in his office on November 24: I had had some telephone conversations with Army counsel John Adams, which were not monitored and concerning all but one, I have no recollection whatsoever. That one, I remember clearly because it occurred just before all the passions broke loose, as I warned they would.

These occurrences made little impression on me at the time, seemed not too important; much of the conversation was gay banter.

IT WOULD NEVER have occurred to me to make a note of them and I did not. At the time nobody seemed to be angry with anybody and as I listened to the testimony, I wondered if I was really present at any of it.

It is not that the testimony was false, rather the tone was different on the witness stand than it was when men believed that they were friends.

After this experience, I shall often wonder whether what wives say about their husbands in divorce courts is not like what John Adams said about Roy Cohn, and vice versa, after they stopped being pals. Undoubtedly each said what the other said that he said, but in what tone? Perhaps it should have been put to music

Throw-Away

BERLIN

It has somehow escaped the American public that the International Socialist movement is a powerful one.

Its European leaders met here the other day and Berlin's busy streets and hotels were filled with men who lead governments, run huge cities, and control parties and unions with scores of millions of members. Of course, the Socialist who has the greatest power is Britain's ex-prime minister, Clement Attlee.

These are gentle people. They are anti-Communist. Many even champion us against the Soviet world. They believe in democracy. But they are anti-capitalist They would nationalize all industry in whatever land they controlled fully — slowly, certainly, but definitely! For, they are Marxists.

Now this raises a great moral and intellectual problem!

The Socialists International, many leaders of which are tortured veterans of Nazi and Soviet concentration camps, controls or influences sharply many powerful unions and national labor federations in England, France, Germany, the Lowlands, the Scandinavian countries and Italy.

IN EUROPE, virtually all unions have a political party attached and every Socialist or Labor party is tied up with a labor federation.

Although the U.S. has spent scores of millions of dollars bolstering these unions and helping to reconstruct them after the war, strong anti-U.S. sentiment is developing inside the European labor and socialist movements.

This sentiment is coupled with a sharp increase in the desire to join the European unions in "unity" with the soviet-controlled World Federation of Trade Unions —an outfit which Sen. Wiley has called the main conduit of Russian manpower and only used to sabotage the U.S. and capture governments such as Guatemala.

In Britain, for example, 14 big unions, including the electrical workers, the railwaymen and the miners, with a total membership of 2,653,000, have demanded that a joint conference be called between the Soviet's World Federation of Trade Unions and the anti-Communist International Confederation of Free Trade Unions.

THIS LATTER organization has for some time had the AFL and CIO as its mainstay. Many do not believe that either the AFL or the CIO would continue their support of the International Confederation if its European leaders decided to confer with the Soviet global labor network chiefs. There also are, of course, many European labor leaders who will fight such "international trade union unity"

However, there IS undisputable labor sentiment for such a move —now that the Soviets are willing to dine with Western leaders — inside French, Belgian, Scandinavian and Italian labor circles. And it may yet come to pass.

With this as background, it is important to know that the U S today spends over a million dollars a year to "bolster" European labor.

This is done on the theory that it is vital to make all Europe's labor strong so it can fight the Communists right inside the factories themselves.

Most of this money is being spent either at the direction of, or directly through American labor leaders, who want a strong anti-Communist labor movement on this continent

This money is disbursed mostly in France and Italy — though some of it goes via Switzerland and into German unions as well Actually only a few men high in our government know exactly where the million dollars goes. It gets marked off as expenditures for aid in "productivity" and "education" by Harold Stassen's Foreign Operations Administration.

THE PROBLEM IS, Mr. Anthony, shall we continue to spend a million dollars a year if first, these unions are going neutral in the cold war?

And if, second, we can use the money for far more constructive items, such as maintaining the symphony orchestra at our U S. radio station here called RIAS. The symphony was fired because we wanted to save a hundred thousand dollars or so — and the Russians in the Eastern sector immediately hired most of the musicians, who have a terrific following and will be tuned in by all Berliners who will then get Russian instead of U.S propaganda.

And if, third, many European unions now are powerful and wealthy.

Now if Europe's labor people don't want our money, dislike our politics, and have millions of their own — why are we annually throwing a million bucks down the drain?

Fire Fighters

HAL BOYLE

MT. HARNEY, S. D.

A princess dwells atop this 7,240-foot peak, the highest mountain between the Rockies and the Alps.

She is Kathy Clark, 19, a forestry student at the Iowa State Agricultural College and she is a working princess. She mans—all by herself—the highest of 16 fire lookouts in the million-and-a-half acre Black Hills National Forest.

I jeeped up to her solitary eyrie with her boss, Supervisor Jack C. Kern, but on the way Kathy, a pretty, dark-haired girl, passed us coming down in another jeep. After 10 days and nights of fire watching, it was her day off.

—:—

"CAN'T STOP," she hollered, "I have to play in a softball game, and I'm late."

Kern grinned, and waved her on

"Six of our 16 lookout posts now are manned either by girls or by husband and wife teams" he said "The girls make very dependable fire watchers.

"Kathy is one of our very best. She never gets excited, even during a lightning storm, when we may have six or seven fires going at once.

"She likes the work. This is her third summer. She lives in a little kitchenette beneath the tower, and does her own cooking and laundry

"Kathy stays up here 8 to 10 days at a time. No, she doesn't get lonely. The job isn't as monotonous as a lighthouse keeper's The lookouts also act as ground observers for the Air Force. There is always something to do, and, of course, there are a lot of visitors in the summer "

The vista from Mt Harney is one of the most beautiful in America. The eye can see parts of five states—South Dakota, North Dakota, Wyoming, Montana, and Nebraska.

"On a clear day we can detect a small fire as far as 70 miles away," said Kern matter-of-factly.

PEOPLE GENERALLY think of forest fires as spectacular conflagrations that happen only once or twice a year. But an evergreen forest in a dry summer is a gigantic torch that is lit and put out endlessly.

Fire fighting to the U S. Forestry Service isn't a sporadic effort, but a high tension, grueling day-to-day effort.

"We had a 10-acre fire today," said Kern, a 20-year veteran at this work. "It was our 167th fire of the year. We have an average of 190 to 200 fires a season in this forest alone.

"About a fourth are caused by careless people. The rest are started by lightning."

The Black Hills forest is only one of some 150 U. S. national forests. But it holds 2½ billion feet of timber, enough to house half a million people in six-room bungalows. It also provides grazing for 24 000 cattle and 13,000 sheep. It shelters more than 90,000 deer, the largest herd of mountain goats in America, and many elk and antelope.

"We in the forestry service regard ourselves as mountain farmers," said Kern.

BUT JUST AS A hailstorm can destroy a farmer's crop, so a burning cigarette flung from a tourist's car can threaten Kern's whole empire of green.

"Last year we lost only 67 acres through fires," he said. But in 1939 a single fire in the Black Hills devastated 21,000 acres, at one time spreading over 2,900 acres in a single hour It was finally quelled by 1,750 men who dug trenches and started backfires over a 47-mile-long battle line.

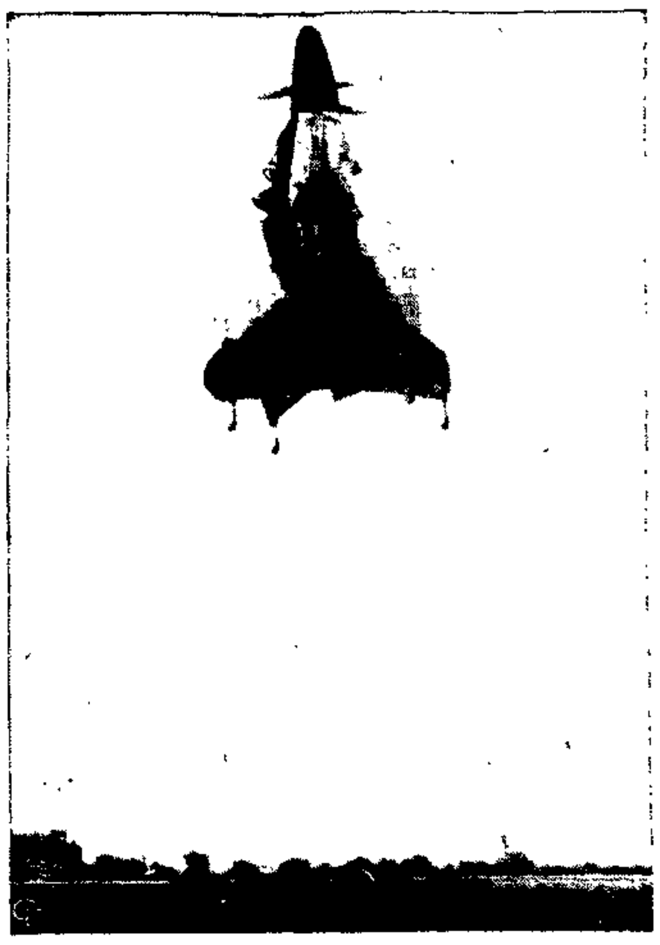
"You know," said Kern soberly, pointing at a tall slender pine, "it takes a hundred years to grow a tree like that, and if anything happens to it then it will take more than a hundred years for another to fill the scar in the sky it leaves."

Crawford County SCD Cooperators Total Stands at 416

BUCYRUS — A total of 416 Crawford County farmers, who operate 22 per cent of the county's rural acreage, now are cooperating with the county Divide Soil Conservation District, according to a report issued today by Lester T. Ross, SCD board chairman. During the first six months of 1954, 37 farmers became cooperators.

Since Jan. 1, district cooperators have completed three farm ponds, one-fifth of a mile of diversion terrace, three-tenths of a mile of terraces, 192 acres of tile drainage (104,700 tile) and 27 acres of woodland improvement work with the assistance of soil conservation service technicians.

Ross also released a report by SCS Technician Robert H. Mills of engineering work completed for cooperators during the past month. Included were 11 ponds at the farms of Neil Spiegel, Charles Tschanen, Earl Eichhorn, Alex Miller, John Harter, Willis D Rowland, Cloyce Baird, D. L. Sears, Gilbert Green, W. R. Thatcher and W. K. Gebhardt Most of the ponds will supplement livestock water supplies and will be used for fish production with about half of them being built this year. A 30-acre topographic survey for tile drainage on the Lester farm also has been completed.



FIRST VERTICAL TAKEOFF. Its six-bladed propeller in full lift, the U. S. Navy's Convair XFV-1 climbs straight up from runway at Moffett Naval Air Station, Calif. This is the first time a fighter plane has ever taken off vertically. A main use of this plane would be in convoy protection, since it could take off from a cargo ship deck. It rests on its X-shaped tail assembly.

Crestliner Named To State Committee

CRESTLINE—Dr. E. G Hesser of Crestline has been appointed to a committee by the Ohio State Historical Society for the development of interest in Ohio history.

The committee's purpose will be to arrange a program for an Ohio institute of history of the state. A meeting of the committee was held in Chillicothe last week and arangements were made to hold the first institute in Newark in October. Representatives from all historical societies in the state will be invited to meet and discuss the problems and objectives of historical societies and the handling of museums.

Because of Dr Hesser's long association with education in the public schools, he has been appointed to the committee for Ohio schools of which Paul B. Belden Sr of Canton is chairman and Fred J Milligan of Columbus is secretary and counsel. The committee is working with the Ohio state school survey committee which is concerned with the Ohio school code. The aim of the survey committee is to make the state curriculum more effective in the education of Ohio's children

Navy Fighter First To Take Off Straight Up

BURBANK, Calif (AP)—The Navy said today that one of its two radically new "pogo stick" fighters has made history's first free vertical takeoff and the other has proved able to hover motionless in free flight

The first, Convair's XFY1 delta wing job, rose unassisted 20 feet from the ground at Moffett Naval Station last Sunday On subsequent flights Monday and Tuesday it rose 150 feet then backed down to a landing on its tail.

The other, Lockheed's XFV1, has taken off horizontally then hovered nearly motionless in the sky in a nearly vertical position for several seconds on several occasions.

Test Pilot J. F. (Skeets) Coleman said of the Convair model:

"It responded beautifully. It's more maneuverable and responds faster than any plane I've ever flown. There just isn't any limit to its future.

"We have to go slowly at first. We'll do a little more maneuvering—try a few new tricks—as we go along. But this is all new. Nobody ever tried vertical takeoffs and landings before in a high performance fighter "

Said Lockheed test pilot Herman (Fish) Salmon of the XFV1:

"With the proper engine, I'm confident I can hang it tight on a cloud. It will sit still in the sky, back straight down, or move straight up."

Money Drive Planned

Truman's Advice Sought By Democratic Leaders

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Democratic party leaders turned for advice today to their star give-'em-hell campaigner — former President Harry S. Truman—on the eve of a big money drive aimed at capturing control of Congress in the November elections.

Adlai Stevenson, titular head of the party, and Democratic National Chairman Stephen Mitchell arranged to see Truman at his home in nearby Independence, Mo., in a meeting that could very well influence the course of the party's campaign.

Plane Hit by Lightning

Stephenson arrived here last night from Canada, a bit shaken from the experience of having his plane struck by lightning while flying at 14,000 feet over Lewiston, Mont. Neither he nor any of the other 15 persons aboard was injured.

Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, admitted: "I was scared for the first time in more than 30 years of flying."

Tonight Truman will make a brief pep talk to about 70 party bigwigs who came here to plan ways and means of building up quickly a not-so-hefty war chest. The former President is still weak from a recent gall-bladder and appendix operation, and his old friends have been asked not to tire him out by shaking hands.

With the money talk, there was speculation over Mitchell's successor as national chairman. He has said he will step down after the November elections and return to his law practice in Chicago.

DiSalle Mentioned

The name most prominently mentioned was that of James E. Finnegan, president of the Philadelphia City Council who has captained several successful campaigns in the Quaker City. Finnegan was an early pro-Stevenson man in the 1952 campaign.

Oher names were Mike DiSalle, former mayor of Toledo and head of the Office of Price Stabilization in the Truman administration; and Paul Butler of Indianapolis, Democratic national committeeman; and Robert Butler of St. Paul, one-time ambassador to Australia and Cuba.

But while personalities and politics were being talked, they were sidelights to the main business of getting together enough money to make a fighting campaign for control of the Senate and House.

Mitchell said the Democratic Senate and House Campaign Committees had asked for a total of $475,000—$300,000 for the House races and $175,000 for the Senate contests.

"I don't think there's any doubt that we'll get the $475,000 we need," Mitchell told reporters. "These people have got blood in their eye."

The National Committee already has turned over $190,000 of the $475,000 to the congressional campaign groups. But there also is the goal of a $1,455,000 budget for 1954 plus a deficit of $150,000 left over from the 1952 presidential campaign.

Stevenson will be the wheel-horse in the money-raising drive and already has eight major speeches lined up for the weeks ahead—starting with one tomorrow at Omaha, Neb. Since 1952, he has poured more than $500,000 into the Democratic coffers with his fund-raising speeches.

Stevenson said the situation from the Democratic viewpoint "looks very wholesome" and that as for a winning strategy—"all it takes is a little good judgment on the part of the people."

Employment Remains Stable, Government Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that employment conditions remained stable in July without an usual seasonal rise in unemployment.

A joint statement by the Commerce and Labor Departments was 62,148,000, an increase of 50,000 from June but 972,000 less than in July a year ago.

Unemployment was virtually unchanged in July at 3,346,000 or 1,000 less than the 3,347,000 counted in June. This change is so small it is considered within the margin of statistical error.

Canton Woman, 31, Dies After Gunshot Wounds

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Mattie Flowers, shot in the chest with a .38 caliber bullet, died today at Mercy Hospital.

Police quoted a friend, Austin A. Davis, 32, as saying the 31-year-old woman shot herself. Coroner E. B. Mozes has not ruled yet.

Davis told police he had been a friend of the woman for eight years.

Reds in West Germany Accept U.S. Aid Offer

BONN, Germany (AP)—Communist East Germany in a surprise move today accepted President Eisenhower's offer of American aid for flood victims in the Soviet Zone.

The U.S. High Commission said a letter of acceptance from East German Prime Minister Otto Grotewohl has been forwarded here by the Soviet High Commission.

President Eisenhower's offer of American aid for victims of Europe's floods was made July 29. Emergency assistance was extended to victims in Western Germany and Austria, but the East German Communists rejected the offer of food and other aid at that time.

Indians To Face Athletics After Losing to Yankees

Garcia To Oppose Fricano; Mantle, Collins Down Tribe

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians still in first place after a visit from those New York Yankees open a four-game series tonight with the Philadelphia Athletics against whom they have a comfortable 11-3 record

Mike Garcia will start for the Tribe in quest of his 13th victory and Marion Fricano (4 8) is slated to oppose him

The Yankees used three home runs yesterday to snatch the rubber contest of a three game series from the Indians 5-2 Mickey Mantle accounted for two of the New York homers and Joe Collins the third

Larry Doby drove in the two Cleveland runs with his 24th homer keeping him first in the league in that department one ahead of Mantle

With only five more games to play together on the regular season schedule the Yanks are leading the Indians nine games to eight New York leads Cleveland by one run 84 to 83 and has made only 10 errors to the Tribe's 19 But Cleveland has done more hitting 165 to 153 including more homers 21 to 12

Mantle hit his first homer yesterday in the fourth inning with two out and the bases empty The score remained at 1 0 until the sixth when Irv Noren doubled and Phil Rizzuto scored him with a single to right field

Loser Early Wynn who had held the Yankees to two hits the first seven innings was relieved by Manager Al Lopez for a pinch hitter during a potential Cleveland rally in the seventh In the eighth Collins clouted his ninth homer of the season off reliefer Ray Narleski and Mantle swinging at the next pitch clouted his second homer of the game

The final Yankee tally came in the same inning when Noren singled moved to second when Gene Woodling walked and scored on a single by Andy Carey

Doby's homer in the eighth scored Bob Avila, who had singled

East Tour Disastrous For Cincy

BROOKLYN N Y (AP) — On a basis of past performances there appeared to be only slight hope today that the Cincinnati Redlegs would be able to salvage much in the next three days from what has been their most disastrous tour of the East this season

The Redlegs have won only two of nine games in Philadelphia New York and Pittsburgh They arrived here today for a series with Brooklyn and the Dodgers along with the New York Giants have been the toughest customers for the Reds all season

They were slated to face Don Newcombe in the opener Newcombe has been one of Brooklyn's biggest pitching disappointments this year with only a 6 6 record but two of his scattered triumphs have been over Cincinnati

Manager Birdie Tebbetts named Art Fowler to hurl for the Rhinelanders

The Cincinnatians had hoped to make up some lost ground in Pittsburgh They could only split even in the first two games however and yesterday's tilt was rained out

Pro Gains Lead in 'Tam' Play With Wife's Putter

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—A jolly 225 pound pro from Tuscaloosa Ala who filched a putter from his wife's golf bag today dried the big name performers to catch him after an unprecedented start in the $25 000 All American money chase at Tam O Shanter

Bespectacled Hal Williams 34 got up at the crack of dawn to start his first round yesterday finishing at 9 30 a m with a five under par 67

He had a haircut in the Tam barber shop stopped for coffee and doughnuts then retreated to a motel to relax through the day

His 67 withstood the challenge from 129 other pro shooters and gave him the first round lead by one stroke over Canadian Rudy Horvath Australia's Peter Thomson and Norm Van Nida and Belgian Flory Van Donck

For the first time since the Tam O Shanter tournaments were inaugurated in 1941 the score of an early finisher stood up for the day

Williams told of borrowing his wife's putter recently and taking only 22 strokes on the greens at Erie Pa tourney after using 38 with his own club Yesterday the magic wand inscribed Mary was good for 28 putts that helped put Williams to the front

"Not only did I steal Mary's putter " laughed Williams "but I also left her in charge of our golf club while I'm away "

The couple owns and operates the Meadowbrook Golf and Country Club at Tuscaloosa

The wind yesterday played havoc with most of the scores but 35 sharp-shooters managed to break 72

Probably as surprising as Williams 67 was the breakthrough of four foreign entries among the leaders The big shot American stars were in the most part looking like also rans Chandler Harper and Cary Middlecoff were exceptions with 69's Defending All American champion Lloyd Mangrum had 70 National Open champion Ed Furgol stumbled in with 73 PGA winner Chick Harbert soared to 75 and Lew Worsham the 1953 'World' champion at Tam settled down with a 72

Jaycee Net Tournament Ordered Under Lights

SPRINGFIELD Ohio (AP) — The first National Junior Chamber of Commerce Tennis Tournament today claimed the distinction of being the first national net test ever held under lights

Play went on under the arcs last night after rain for the second straight day twice interrupted the contests Referee Harry Fogleman ordered the lamps turned on after showers halted play in the morning and again for two hours in the afternoon He said the action was unprecedented in a national tournament

Bannister, Landy Lose Mile Trials

VANCOUVER B C (AP)—Little Murray Halberg of New Zealand ranked today with kings and conquerors after beating the great Roger Bannister and outperforming famous John Landy yesterday in the mile trials at the British Empire games

Murray may bow tomorrow to the power that is latent in the legs of the mighty when Bannister and Landy wage the nationally televised duel the world has been awaiting since they cracked the 4 minute barrier in separate tests earlier in the year

But the Empire Games Mile tomorrow will be men against men—first men instead of men against the clock and the little Auckland school teacher has proved himself a man

Murray went out and set the pace in the first heat of yesterday's trials they called it the Bannister heat—and he was still out there in front when the timers clicked the clocks and read them at 4 minutes 7 4 seconds

Bannister chopping along in his big loose style was third in the heat behind Canada's Rich Ferguson And then in the Landy heat another New Zealander scored a surprise first place Bill Baillie crossing the line in 4 11 4 Landy was almost arm in arm with Victor Milligan of Northern Ireland

Even the bettering of a world standard by sweet-running Marjorie Jackson Nelson of Australia in the women's 220 yard dash couldn't dim the luster of the mile prelims Marjorie went scooting around the single turn course in 24 seconds flat topping the 24 2 world mark credited to Fanny Blankers Koen of The Netherlands

Konno, Carolyn Green Swim to Meet Records

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Ford Konno and Carolyn Green entered a couple of sprint events at national AAU swimming and diving championship today after showing two different ways to set records in the 1 500 meter freestyle races that opened the four day show yesterday

Konno Olympic and American citizen champion at the distance was pushed by William A Yorzyk of the New Haven Swim Club and George Onekea Jr of the Hawaii S C to a new AAU record of 1907 1

All three broke Konno's year old mark of 19 20

The tireless 20 year old Miss Green University of Miami student had no close competition and made a couple of mistakes that probably added four or five seconds to her time

She swam a couple of slow lengths midway in the race then lost count of her turns and swam an extra 50 meters before officials got her stopped She said she could have stepped up her pace considerably on the last 100 meters if she'd known it was the last

Her time of 21 08 5 broke her own American and AAU record of 21 20 8 set three years ago

Konno who won three events for Ohio State in the last NCAA meet was entered in a late afternoon 200 meter freestyle event today with two of his teammates on the U S Olympic championship 800 meter relay team

Second-Division Clubs Hold Key to AL Pennant Struggle

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

The American League pennant chances of Cleveland New York and Chicago now seem certain to be decided in games against the five also-rans rather than in hand-to-hand combat

With less than a third of the season remaining the schedule is [illegible] of the so-called [illegible] Indian Yankee White Sox [illegible]

Cleveland has only five games left with the Yankees who [illegible] a game and a half and six with the White Sox who are five lengths back The Yankees meet the White Sox just three more times

But [illegible] Cleveland [illegible] are 13 meetings with Detroit New York has 13 left with Philadelphia and Chicago faces Baltimore 11 more times

Cleveland leads the [illegible] because so far it has [illegible] than either Chicago or New York The Indians have whipped the [illegible] five [illegible] times while losing only 14 Against the same [illegible] the White Sox have a [illegible] record and the Yankees 50 21

None of the three title [illegible] has any particular home or away advantage Cleveland's remaining 50 games are cut right down the middle 25 at home 25 on the road The Yankees have 24 in New York and 23 away The White Sox have 25 in Chicago and 21 on the road

If Cleveland continues to win at its current 692 pace the Yankees would have to win 44 of their remaining 47 games to tie The White Sox would need 37 out of 46

The Yankees gained a 9 8 season's advantage over Cleveland yesterday by winning the final game of a three part series 5 2 The White Sox ran their current winning streak to seven games with a 5 1 triumph over Boston Washington whipped Detroit 4 1 in the only other American League action

The New York Giants held on to their five game edge over Brooklyn although they lost 6 4 to Chicago The Dodgers were walloped 13 4 by St Louis

Cincinnati at Pittsburgh and Milwaukee at Philadelphia were rained out These were the first postponements in either league since July 7 although several games which had been started had to be called because of bad weather

Mickey Mantle led the Yankee raid into Indian territory with two home runs Joe Collins hit one

[illegible] help from Johnny Sain [illegible] gave up the only two Cleveland runs [illegible] Doby in the eighth

The White Sox [illegible] five hits [illegible] but [illegible] them when they counted most Phil Cavarretta's two-run double [illegible] was the big blow as Bob Keegan won his 14th game

[illegible] Washington [illegible] Porterfield [illegible] with two out in the [illegible] Detroit [illegible] Washington [illegible] his 11th triumph Mickey Vernon [illegible] loser Steve Gromek in the 11th

Stan Musial who always has looked upon Ebbets Field [illegible] home [illegible] drove in seven runs as the Cardinals [illegible] sided victory in Brooklyn Musial hit two homers [illegible] his 24th and 30th [illegible] drove in [illegible] with a sacrifice fly

[illegible] the show [illegible] Johnny [illegible] had [illegible] with three [illegible]

Hank [illegible] home runs in the eighth inning [illegible] Eddie Miksis homered the Cubs to victory over the Giants Frank Baumholtz also hit into the seats for the Chicagoans

[illegible] Jim Davis [illegible] of three Cub pitchers stopped the Giants after they [illegible] in the ninth [illegible] got Monte Irvin to tap into a game-ending double play in the ninth

Cites Listless Play

Brooklyn Players Giving Up, Cards' Musial Says

By JOE REICHLER

BROOKLYN (AP) — A five-game deficit with 44 to go is not an insurmountable obstacle to overcome Bigger leads have been blown But Brooklyn's chances of overhauling the New York Giants are growing slimmer day by day.

The Dodgers fizzled a grand opportunity to pick up a full game on the losing Giants yesterday as St Louis walloped them 13-4 behind Stan Musial's pair of three-run homers A St Louis player, instrumental in the lop-sided Cardinal victory, was struck by the listless play of the Dodgers

"What's wrong with those guys?" he asked later in the clubhouse "They look like they wish the season were over Don't tell me they've given up? Heck, I wish we were that close "

The statement was relayed to Pee Wee Reese captain and shortstop of the Dodgers

"What team looks good when it gets its brains knocked out?" he wanted to know

"Talk of giving up is ridiculous," Reese added "This is a veteran club with a number of guys who have been around They know the race is far from over Most of the fellows on this club were around when we made up all but one of a 9½ game lead the Philadelphia club held over us as late as September 1950 They were also around when we blew a 13½ game mid-August lead to the Giants So they know it's not impossible to make up five games in seven weeks.

"However we're not kidding ourselves We've got to play better ball if we are to win We've been good on certain days but we haven't been good consistently

At Carling's we brew both beer and ale—and each is mighty popular. But more and more people are telling us Carling's Red Cap Ale gives them more pleasure than any beer they ever tasted. They say it's light and dry as the smoothest beer, yet with that extra flavor—that "heart" which only a fine ale can provide! They call it the "light-hearted" ale.

Tonight, why not try it? See whether you are one of those who find Carling's Red Cap Ale tastes even better than beer!

Industries Team Takes Girls' Softball Loop Title

Marion Industries is the 1954 Marion Girls Softball League champ.

The Industries squad won the title by edging Arro Expansion, 11-7, in an extra inning tilt Wednesday night for its third league win in as many starts.

The winners were forced to knot the score in the seventh before winning with a four-run outburst in the top of the eighth.

Murray and Eby formed the battery for Industries while Bee Newell was the Arro hurler and Barbara Newell the catcher.

Smiley paced the winners with a pair of doubles. One came with the bases loaded in the opening frame and the other brought in the tying run in the seventh.

Meanwhile, Telephone Co. was nipping Shovel, 10-8. Craven and Kneisley were the battery for the winners while Elkins and Hawk formed the Shovel battery.

Kneisley of the Telephone squad has three for five while Monahan of the losers clouted a pair of homers in the first and third frames.

Shovel and Arro will battle next Wednesday in a make-up game for the league runner-up position at the Fairfield diamonds on True Ave. Both teams have identical 1-1 marks in league play.

At the same time, plans for a league all-star game were announced. It will probably be played in the next three weeks with the teams comprised of players on all league teams. The tilt is to raise money for a trophy presentation party.

ENTERS OHIO STATE

NEW LEXINGTN, Ohio (AP)—Mike Allen, giant New Lexington St. Aloysius basketball center, will enroll at Ohio State University this fall. Allen, 6-feet-8½, said yesterday he chose OSU over 35 other colleges which had made offers. An honor student, he said he plans to study mechanical engineering.

BEST HURLER. Lefty Johnny Antonelli of the New York Giants wears a big smile at Polo Grounds, New York City, as he demonstrates the grip which has made him baseball's top pitcher this year. Lausche Plans No Intervention In Slaying Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche said today he will not intervene in the scheduled electrocution tonight of Samuel Brothers Nettles, 32-year-old Toledo slayer.

Nettles was convicted of slaying William Pegler, 76, and his wife Bertha, 65, in their Toledo home, Aug. 31, 1953, during a burglary.

All his appeals in the courts have been turned down.

Gov. Lausche issued this statement:

"Under the facts upon which Samuel Brothers Nettles was convicted by a jury of murder in the first-degree, without a recommendation of mercy, . . . I cannot intervene.

"This elderly couple were brutally stabbed to death with a total of 54 knife wounds. Their home was ransacked and burglarized of jewelry, and other valuables.

"The finding of the jury was approved by the trial judge, three members of the appellate court, and seven members of the Supreme Court of Ohio."

ARRESTED IN MARION

Frank M. Lucas, 71, of Columbus faces police charges today of being a suspicious person. He was arrested Thursday night on Blaine Ave. and detained in jail overnight until his appearance in Municipal Court today.

Dean, Banner Win Wrestling Matches Here

Penny Banner and Man Mountain Dean were winners in the wrestling program at the Marion Armory last night.

Gino Angelo and Dick Torio battled to a draw in the opening one-fall match.

Banner won the second match, two out of three falls with a 60 minute time limit, when Kathy Branch was disqualified for using tape in Banner's eyes in the third fall.

A pair of newcomers to Marion, Branch had won the opening fall in 12 minutes with a reverse chin lock and pin. Then Banner had come back to take the second in 11 minutes with a back drop and pin.

Danny O'Sullivan's drop kicks backfired in the third match, two out of three falls with a 60 minute time limit, which Dean won. O'Sullivan used his feet in the second fall to win over Dean with a drop kick in seven minutes but using drop kicks again, O'Sullivan missed on the third one and struck his head on the floor of the ring, Dean jumping on O'Sullivan for the pin in five minutes.

Dean, a 350-pounder, had won the first fall in 17 minutes with a body press as he used his weight to advantage all through the fall.

A six man Battle Royal, where all six wrestlers are in the ring at one time, is carded for next Thursday.

July Rainfall Sets Wilmington Record

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—Unlike much of the state, Wilmington is making no complaints whatsoever about a July drought.

Mrs. Ethel H. Hayes, weather observer here, disclosed today that Wilmington had 8.42 inches of rain in July, the heaviest rainfall in the state.

Oddly, Mrs. Hayes said, 23 days of the month were clear, five were partly cloudy and only three were cloudy. Of the total rainfall in the month, 5.35 inches fell during a heavy storm on July 20.

Swimming Mask Fails, Texas Boy, 14, Drowns

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A boy suffocated last night in his rubber-and-glass swimming mask.

The body of Charles Bryan Hailey, 14, was found in three feet of water at a pool. Vacuum created by his inhaling had sucked the mask so tight over is nose and mouth it had to be cut from his face.

Steve Lauer, ninth grader, and Dick Keller, seventh grader, both broke three records apiece. Dick Lauer, fifth grader, Linda Halley, second grader, and Diana Wood, fifth grader, each setting a new record. Bob Murray, a first grader, also broke a pair of records.

Keller was the leading scorer of the meet with four firsts. It marked the eighth consecutive year in which he had never lost a running race, broad jump or base circling contest.

Marion's Stanley Case ranked up among the top scorers with 15 points. A fourth grader, he won the 40 yard dash and broad jump in his age group. Tom Rodgers had 17 points. Buddy Hecker 16 and Steve Lauer and Case 15 apiece.

European Problem

French Stalling on EDC; Allies Become Impatient

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The French still stall on approving a single European Army which would include Frenchmen and Germans. The United States and Britain have indicated, if the stall continues, they will consider granting the West Germans sovereignty. It's guarded talk, more like a nudge.

The word sovereignty in Germany's case sounds bigger than it is. It wouldn't mean full independence. Nor would it mean immediate rearmament. It might mean that later.

Could Lead To Split

But giving Germany sovereignty without French approval could lead to an Anglo-American split with the French.

The United States has looked upon an unarmed Germany as a soft spot in Western Europe against possible Russian attack. But how could the Germans be permitted to rearm without letting them become a menace again to their neighbors? The solution seemed to lie in a single European Army—called EDC, the European Defense Community.

That single army would be made up of troops from France, Germany, Italy, Belgium, Luxembourg, the Netherlands. It would be about a two-million-man force, all wearing the same uniforms and under a single command. The German contribution would be perhaps 500,000 men.

Although this would let the Germans rearm to a limited degree, they still couldn't have a separate, national army under a revived German general staff. The EDC idea seemed all right to the French, when they first proposed it several years ago. Later the French had second thoughts. Some Frenchmen feared the thought of a Germany rearmed at all. Some foresaw Germany as the possible dominator of EDC.

EDC couldn't come into existence without French approval. The French delayed although all other participants except Italy gave their okay. The United States kept pressing. Nothing happened. Finally French Premier Mendes-France said he would put the question to the French Assembly before it adjourned this month. Meantime, he has run into other troubles which may sidetrack EDC.

Two Arguments

There are two important agreements in the background, involving the United States, France, Britain, and West Germany. One was made at Bonn, the West German capital, the other at Paris. The Bonn agreement covers the question of restoring sovereignty to Germany. The Paris agreement covers creation of EDC.

In short, the agreements say: There can be no sovereignty for Germany until EDC comes into existence, with German troops a part of it and Germany therefore not free to set up its own army. The French can protest the United States and Britain have broken the two agreements if they attempt to give Germany sovereignty before the French approve EDC.

But, by that reasoning, West Germany could be kept unarmed forever if the French never let EDC come into existence. That's the dilemma the United States and Britain face in wanting to keep France a firm ally and at the same time patching up the soft spot of an unarmed Germany.

Right now United States, British and French troops occupy three zones of West Germany. And representatives of those three, called high commissioners, keep some control over the West German government. For instance, they can veto certain kinds of legislation passed by the German Parliament. As an example: laws on cartels. Also, they control West Germany's relations with other governments.

If Germany is granted sovereignty, the three high commissioners take the title of ambassadors. They will no longer, it is believed, veto German legislation. They would not control West Germany's foreign relations, or probably wouldn't, since that would have to be worked out. And the occupation troops no longer would be called by that name. Undoubtedly they'd stay in Germany, but as "guests" for defense purposes.

And the Allies would be boss if the time ever came—no one looks for it in the foreseeable future—to make a final peace treaty on Germany with the Russians and arrange for the reunification of West and East Germany. The Russians still are boss in East Germany.

Boys Find Loot, Spend Like Crazy Until Police Arrive

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Eight boys found a treasure trove in a vacant lot and had a gay time until police stepped in.

Like a youthful dream come true, the youngsters stumbled on several bags of silver and promptly began to toss money around, dashing to an amusement park and to the resort town of Asbury Park.

One suspicious mother yesterday said her boy seemed to have an unlimited supply of quarters.

Detectives talked to the boys, who led them to four bags of silver, containing $981.65, stored between a bees' nest and a wasps' nest "to keep thieves away."

Police said the find apparently was part of $3,900 which disappeared from a Trenton, N.J., vending machine firm along with one of the firm's employes.

Names and ages of the boys were not disclosed. Nor did police say how much they spent.

Dynamite Caps Stolen

TOWSON, Md (AP)—Six thousand "extremely dangerous" dynamite caps were stolen by thieves who broke into a construction company shed, Baltimore County Police reported yesterday. The theft took place on the northeast edge of Baltimore.

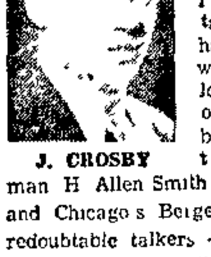
Men on the Subject of Women



J. CROSBY

'Conversation'' which you'll find on NBC radio (just blow the dust off and turn the knob to the right it still works) at 7 30 p m EDT on Sundays is a program dedicated to the vanishing art of talk The talk has not always sparkled but the other night the boys — Clifton Fadiman H Allen Smith Bennett Cerf and Chicago's Bergen Evans, all redoubtable talkers — got on the subject of women, that inexhaustible topic and it was a very entertaining half hour

Mr Fadiman led off by quoting that quotable female, Rebecca West's statement to the effect that men are lunatics and women are idiots—in the sense that men are lunatic in their absorption of a single idea whether it be war or government, and that women are idiotic in their non-absorption in these abstractions (While it's quotable I violently disagree some women can get so wrapped up in abstractions that the baby can starve while they're expounding them)

NATURALLY, YOU CANNOT long discuss women without — just as a basis of comparison (Vive le difference) — discussing men and presently Mr Evans was musing "Isn't it that the man like the male rooster who wakens the sun with his crowing the man sees himself as a cosmic figure Whereas the woman is so busy in domestic details Just yesterday I was dealing with cosmic things or the day before I was to see a publisher and I saw myself as an enlightener of mankind going forth to discuss these matters when my wife asked me to put up a clothes line—just as I was leaving, just as I was leaving!''

And in that statement you can read all the pent up bitterness of all men who have been hauled unceremoniously to earth by some female when they were spiritually flying high

Somehow, I rather gathered the impression that the wives of all four of the conversationalists were listening to them because they were all marvelously polite about the opposite sex Still, womenkind did not escape unscathed From Mr Smith there escaped the observation

"I LIKE WOMEN I sort of like the way they're shaped some of them, but there is a point I would like to bring out It seems to me there is at the present moment a new style or a new look coming ahead in women They are the queerest looking bunch of people to me They have idiot boy haircuts and they're shaped like bed slats and their faces go with the haircuts Their faces look like a fruitcake that's exploded in the oven"

It seems to me that in any discussion of women one misogynist should have been present to lead as it were His Majesty's loyal opposition Smith came closest to this — and he wasn't very close However he did quote a French critic who said that 'to endow a woman with reason and thought is to put a knife into the hands of a child'

This instantly brought a defense from Mr Fadiman 'That's a very common prejudice on the part of males to assume that reason is something that they, the males ought to have by monopoly and that women should not be allowed to have'

'In all seriousness'' contributed Mr Evans a college professor I have noticed that in 29 years of college teaching in coeducational colleges the girl who shows off knowledge in class won't have many dates'

'DO YOU THINK'' inquired Mr Fadiman 'we're going in the next few centuries to have a sudden effervescence of intelligence on the part of women now that they've won their so-called emancipation' And when Mr Evans allowed as how this was probably true Mr Fadiman declared gloomily That's an awful thought'

The affair was rounded out by Mr Cerf that reservoir of anecdotes 'You know the story of the lady in your own city Bergen who used to go out shopping all the time Her husband was suddenly called to New York He didn't know how to tell his wife because she was out His strategem was to call all the big stores in Chicago and cancel her charge accounts About 15 minutes later she was on the phone in a bloody rage—and he found out where she was'

Reminds me of one of my own favorite female stories about a widow in Pennsylvania whose two teen-age children ran away from home The widow packed a bag trained to New York and stationed herself under the Paramount marquee at 43rd St and Broadway Within 15 minutes the kids walked past and she collared em

The collision wiped out two families riding in the passenger car.

Killed were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Elliott and their two children and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Boyer and their two children, all of Plains, Kan. Two men in the truck were injured seriously.

The accident occured at the junction of U. S. Highway 54 and U.S. 160.

Tax Receipts Show Decline in County

Sales tax receipts in Marion County for the week ending July 24, took a $6,000 dip in comparison to the collections for the similar period of last year which totaled $18,635. The 1954 colelction was $12,695.

This downward trend also was evident in a comparison of statewide figures released by State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy. Stat collections for the week ending July 24, 1954 amounted to $2,720,343, which was a drop of $128,248 from the corresponding week of last year.

Kentucky Voters To Pick Nominees

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Voters of this border state tomorrow will nominate 10 congressional candidates in a quiet prelude to a keen U.S. senatorial race expected to match names—Cooper and Barkley—regarded by some Kentuckians as having political magic.

Gen. John Sherman Cooper, Somerset Republican seeking re-election and former Vice President Alben W. Barkley, Paducah Democrat running to regain the senatorial post he had before being elected "Veep" in 1948, are without strong opposition in their primaries. Each is backed by his state party organization.

The 76-year-old Barkley and 52-year-old Cooper have been speaking for some time—although doing little formal campaigning—and leaders of both parties anticipate one of the most heated races in Kentucky history between the pair before the Nov. 2 general election.

Poison Ivy Lotion Gives Good Results

CINCINNATI (AP) — A new lotion to stop itching from poison ivy in a few hours is being tested with good results at the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine.

Dr. Leon Goldman, head of the dermatology department, said based on experiments even severe cases can be cleard up within a few days instead of the two weeks generally needed.

Treatment, however, should begin as soon as possible after contact for quick results, he told a newsman.

"When the poison ivy gets bad, internal treatments also are needed," Dr. Goldman said.

Passed $24,000 In Faulty Checks, Man Tells Police

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Portsmouth police had in custody today a 37-year-old Geneva, Ohio, man they said had passed almost $24,000 in worthless checks in a year.

Sgt. William Allen and Detective Harold Tinsley said the man, James Girdley, had admitted stealing a check-protecting machine and a large number of checks in Geneva last May 4. The officers also said Girdley confessed stealing checks from firms in Barberton, Chicago and Detroit.

Girdley was arrested last night when a waitress in a bar recognized his picture on a police bulletin pasted near the cash register as he tried to cash what he said was a pay roll check.

The officers said Girdley told them he had passed worthless checks within the last year in Cleveland, Akron, Geneva, Barberton, Portsmouth, Detroit and North Wilkesboro, N. C.

The police found two check protecting machines, a typewriter and several bundles of blank checks in Girdley's car, they said.

140 JOBS ABOLISHED

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Transit System said yesterday it has abolished 140 jobs. The City Transit Board said the action involved some layoffs, but retirement, death and resignations had already accounted for most of the job reductions.

Columbus Chief In Traffic Court

Pays $10 Fine, Hails Men Who Made Arrest

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—George W. Scholer was named Columbus chief of police a few weeks ago.

Two weeks later his automobile and that of a patrolman crashed at an intersection.

The chief was arrested for failing to yield the right-of-way. The patrolman was not arrested.

In traffic court Thursday the prosecutor offered evidence in the case. The chief did not take the stand, but his attorney asked the court to dismiss the charge.

Judge Charles R. Petree refused, found the chief guilty, and fined Scholer $10 and costs.

The chief paid it, then congratulated the officers who had investigate the case on their fair and unbiased reports.

Causes Headache

Reopening of Iranian Oil Industry Mixed Blessing

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The victory: The Untied States and its Allies are keeping Iranian oil out of the hands of the Russians.

The price: The headache of trying to ease a new flow of oil into a world stream already distending its banks. Where will the oil be sold? Will it lower prices at the corner service station?

Three Dangers

The dangers: 1. Arousing the resentment of Iran's Middle East neighbors, who may lose some of their own oil revenues in making room for Iran's oil; 2. Drawing down the ire of American independent oil companies whose output already is cut back because of the over-supply of oil; and 3. Encouraging other countries to follow Iran's nationalization tactics.

American oilmen think they can work out a way to pay the price painlessly and to avoid the dangers by taking it slow and easy

They contend that little Iranian oil will come to American shores —domestic producers would clamor too loud if it did. Prices here would be affected little—unless the world price structure cracked under the strain.

When Iran closed down its English - owned oil industry three years ago, the world's oil supply was tight. And Iran, with 650,000 barrels a day capacity, was furnishing 6 per cent of the total output of the non-Communist world.

Since then its neighbors, Kuwait, Iraq and Saudi Arabia, have stepped up their output to more than make up the difference. They are producing at a rate of 2½ million barrels a day.

World demand has increased by one-fourth in the three years. But capacity to produce oil has increased even more. Production has had to be cut back. There's no real need for Iran's oil now—in the non-Communist world. But Russia could use it.

Russian Output Up

Russia and its satellites have increased their oil output by 36 per cent since pre-World War II days. But in the same 15 years the United States alone has doubled its oil output, and is estimated to have seven times the productive capacity of the Soviets.

In wartime that would be all-important. Russia's oil lack is considered one of the best insurances against its starting World War III at this time.

The American, English, French and Dutch oil companies that have banded together to peddle Iran's oil and oil products hope that the steadily rising world oil demand will ease their task.

Demand is growing faster this year in other lands than in the United States, although this is still the major oil product user.

Working slowly, the companies contracting to produce and market Iran's oil plan full production from its wells about 1957, and expect to get the refinery at Abadan turning out 300,000 barrels of petroleum products a day about the same time. That should give Iran from 150 to 200 million dollars a year revenue from its oil.

This could ease the burden on the American taxpayer, who has been putting up money in grants to Iran to keep it going while its oil wells were down—and to keep it out of the control of Russia.

Kiwanis Group Hears Talk by Military Chief

Col. Mardian Explains Reserve Training Plan At Weekly Program

Col. Frank J. Mardian of Columbus, chief of the Ohio Military District, discussed the reserve training program and future plans for military training when he spoke at the Marion Kiwanis Club weekly luncheon meeting Thursday at Hotel Harding.

The speaker told his audience that Ohio is one of seven Military Districts in the United States. ROTC officers are under his direction, Col. Mardian explained, and he said they provide instructors for the National Guard and all reserve training programs.

Speaking of the draft and the military service as it is carried out today, Col. Mardian reminded his audience that there is in effect an eight-year draft service, two years active duty and six years reserve duty. This is a fact many people fail to realize, he added.

When discharged from active duty, the serviceman is automatically transferred into the reserves, after which he can be recalled for active duty at any time during the six-year period.

Ohio has 204 active reserve units. Members of these units receive a full day's pay for each training meeting and must attend a two-week training period each year. He pointed out there is an advantage to joining an active reserve unit which all reservists should investigate.

The reserves are a continuance of the training carried on during the first two years of active duty, Col. Mardian explained. He explained that Ohio alone has 52,000 obligated reservists, servicemen who now are listed as inactive reservists. He added that it has been determined that by 1960, under the present draft rate, there will be 200,000 obligated reservists in Ohio.

Col. Mardian explained that Army officials are recommending that employers grant reservists two weeks military leave in addition to their regular vacation periods. It is believed this is one factor which would help to increase the number of active reserve members. In a recent survey in Cleveland, he said, 161 of 185 businesses are granting leaves for military training plus regular vacations. He added that employers who understand the situation are cooperating.

The speaker said that the public must be educated to the fact that the young men today have an eight-year Army obligation.

Col. Mardian was introduced by John Smith.

Welcomed into the club as new members were Carroll Lockwood, Harry Steiner and Ronald Heifner.

Visiting Kiwanians included Dr. Robert McGinnis of Los Angeles, Calif., and John Mathews of Mount Gilead. W. H. Badlridge of Marion was a guest.

An announcement was made of the annual Kiwanis family picnic to be held next Thursday. For those unable to attend, a make-up meeting will be held at noon.

Simplified Selling May Cut Into Clerk Service

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (UP)— Within five years, 50 per cent of items now being sold by clerk service will be sold by simplified selling, according to Robert G. Seymour, director of the University of Illinois' business management service.

Seymour told a merchandise conference at the University of Michigan the trend towards simplified selling results from the decline in price competition due to brand buying which causes the manufacturer to take over many selling functions traditionally belonging to the retailer.

Simplified selling techniques will include, according to Seymour, fixtures that make merchandise more eye-appealing and more easily available to the shopper, carefully selected stocks and check-outs near doors.

Net Foreign Aid

The compromise that will be reached by Senate-House conferees on foreign aid will be closer to three billion dollars than the Senate's trimmed-down bill calling for only $2,610,000,000. This may still be a deep enough slash to alarm the White House, but it will scarcely alarm members of Congress who have been growing skeptical about the foreign aid program.

The United States has been using one variation or another of foreign aid since the lend-lease program, which started in 1940. It has gone by different names and has been administered under various policies. But the purpose has been continuously to encourage the friends of the United States with grants and loans, enabling them to share the benefit of American productivity.

It is not customarily mentioned, especially in congressional debate, but there have been times when the United States, itself, also was the beneficiary of its own generosity. When international friction and tight control of economic activities by governments virtually eliminated all ordinary processes of trade, the foreign aid program provided an export market that otherwise would not have existed. Nearly all foreign aid is granted in the form of goods manufactured or grown in the United States.

Complex bookkeeping is needed to keep track of the endless details of grants, credits, counterpart funds, technical assistance programs, rehabilitation projects, credit agreements, etc. But only one figure is important to taxpayers —the net total, after all reverse aid and loan repayments have been subtracted from the gross total.

Through the end of the calendar year 1952, the net total stood at $37,612,000,000. The gross total reached $41,034,000,000. Foreign aid at the end of 1952 was about the same for 12 years as the total net receipts of the United States government in 1950, when they declined to a fraction over 37 billion dollars.

On a New Front

The next low blow of the Communist conspiracy, unless we miss our guess, is going to be an assault on athletic records held by non-Russian women runners, jumpers, weight-lifters and the like. The Russians now are claiming the world's half-mile record after a 2:08.4 run by Nina Oktalenko. An Englishwoman is the official record holder.

Here is a place where anti-Communist civilizations may be as vulnerable as they proved to be when the Communist conspirators took a poke at French colonialism in Asia. The fact is that running, jumping and athletic endeavor in general for women have not been pushed very hard in the freedom bloc.

Women athletes who have distinguished themselves have done it for the most part in spite of and not because of the environment in which they grow up. That is why the Kremlin dictators, if they choose to confront the non-Communist world with a bevy of female athletes bent on breaking records would have things their own way. They could establish their much-cherished Russian superiority by default, much as they have been able to establish it in the matter of chess tournaments and vodka-drinking.

Eventually, of course, non-Communist civilizations would rise to the occasion. But it is a grim and forbidding prospect when one thinks of asking American girls to volunteer to spend some of the best years of their lives learning to run the half mile faster than Nina Oktalenko.

September Steel

The steel industry is pointing now to September as the probable turn-up point in customer demand, with August orders coming in sufficient volume to pull the market out of its July lethargy.

Steel Magazine explains that trade authorities are basing their predictions for a September buying pickup on forthcoming automobile needs, continued strong demand from the construction industries and depletion of already low inventories. The authorities believe it is significant that price increases following the industry's upward cost adjustments have been absorbed without undue dislocation.

The steel prospect like all other economic prospects as 1954 goes into its seventh month is blurred by uncertainty about the probable shape and nature of the "normal" conditions that will prevail during the year to come if there is no war. For years, during the war-boom era and the postwar lull followed by the Korean war boom, Americans yearned for normal times. They said they were tired of ever-rising prices and the ever-losing pursuit of the prices by buying power. They said they wanted to forget about casualty lists and the spenders' credo that federal taxing and spending always had to go up and never come down or move sideways again.

Normalcy is emerging from uncertainty by slow degrees. The steel industry, underlying the entire economy, is gradually readjusting itself to non-boom circumstances and locating its break-even point. By September it may have reached a level that will bring steel operations within reach of peacetime normalcy. By October, it may have reached normalcy.

Unprecedented Challenge

By David Lawrence

Will Rule Apply Retroactively Against McCarthy?

An unprecedented challenge to constitutionalism — and one that can curtail the right of a member of Congress hereafter to express freely and without fear of intimidation his views on public questions —has been projected by the vote of the Senate to create a special committee of six to consider certain charges made by other senators against Sen. McCarthy.

The issue is not whether what the Wisconsin senator has said in his speeches about Gen. Marshall or anyone else was or was not meritorious, but whether the Senate is about to try a United States senator for conduct which it has never heretofore prescribed as a violation of its rules.

The Supreme Court of the United States has set aside as unconstitutional many a law passed by Congress because it did not specify "standards" for the application of the law in question.

What are the "standards" by which the new Senate committee is to judge the conduct of the Wisconsin senator, and can a rule be applied now which refers to acts allegedly committed before the rule was ever adopted?

-:-

IF IT BE "ETHICS" that now are to be defined, there is the charge that Sen. McCarthy received a fee for the preparation of a book on housing of veterans, published by a housing company. Sen. Fulbright says the fee was not paid for "comparable service." Then what shall be said of those senators who — as Sen. Knowland pointed out in the debate—have received fees for public speaking in excess of those normally paid?

What of the fact that labor unions, trade associations and corporations having business with the Congress paid out such huge fees to members of Congress?

If it be "unethical" for a senator to accept a fee for writing a book derived from information received from his own committee or from executive agencies of the government, what shall be said of the "ethics" of President Franklin D. Roosevelt who, while he was in the White House, had published for private profit and put a personal copyright on information that belonged to the government of the United States?

Thus, the transcripts of press conferences from 1933 to 1940 — which the newspapermen of America were forbidden to quote in the first person—were published for gain, and the copyright which Roosevelt held has prevented the press from reprinting all those transcripts as a matter of right and it can be done today only with the permission of the book publisher.

ROOSEVELT, in the foreword, extended thanks "to the members of the cabinet and heads of other agencies and others who have assisted in the gathering of this material in the various departments of the government and in the executive offices in the White House."

Is that a "standard" for a senator, too? Should any member of Congress receive outside income—from private law practice, for example—while he is in office? There is no rule on this either.

Shall members of Congress accept compensation for articles they write for publication in newspapers or periodicalss while, as always, there is under consideration legislation to increase second-class postal rates?

Shall members of Congress vote on any measure affecting any constituent who has contributed substantial sums to his campaign fund? Should he disclose his own investments and disqualify himself from voting on any issue directly or indirectly affecting his personal property?

As for making "classified information" public, what is the rule or standard? Is it a matter for "censure" when one senator makes it public and no violation when another does?

Not long ago a western senator on television told facts about the hydrogen bomb which were supposed to be top secret. Should he have been "censured" for that? If so, where is the rule which says that a member of the coordinate branch of the government is not authorized to use any information which he deems in the public interest?

IT HAS BEEN charged that the Wisconsin senator urged federal employes "to violate their oaths and the law" by encouraging them to give him information which, it has been argued, they should not transmit.

Conceding that a federal employe should be fired for doing it—and maybe if he suspects corruption or treason, he may feel justified in risking his job for the public welfare—is there any rule of conduct by either house of Congress which says the members cannot use in hearings information of any kind which they receive? If so, it hasn't been written yet anywhere in the rules.

The case is parallel to the action of President Roosevelt when he wrote a letter to a committee chairman in the House and urged that the Guffey Coal Act be passed irrespective of any doubts which members might have as to the constitutionality of that bill. Was this asking members of Congress to violate the oaths in which they promised "to support the constitution," and, if not, is it any different conduct from that which is charged against the Wisconsin senator?

ONE OF THE charges now has blown up in the faces of the accusers—the Army has just suspended for the second time Annie Lee Moss, whom McCarthy charged was a Communist, and this time it is stated some new information has been uncovered by the FBI.

Supposing the resolution of "censure" for his having made the charge in the Moss case had passed the Senate when the anti-McCarthy senators were pressing for a vote last week—would they today be revoking their action?

Could they undo the damage done the Wisconsin senator by such a resolution of "censure" impugning his integrity and his fidelity to his duty, as he sees it, in trying to rid the government of Communists?

The select committee of senators can make a report promptly and briefly—namely, that it cannot try McCarthy because there are no rules of conduct covering his speeches or alleged attitudes in his committee hearings and that, if there are to be rules, then all members should be subject to them hereafter and not retroactively.

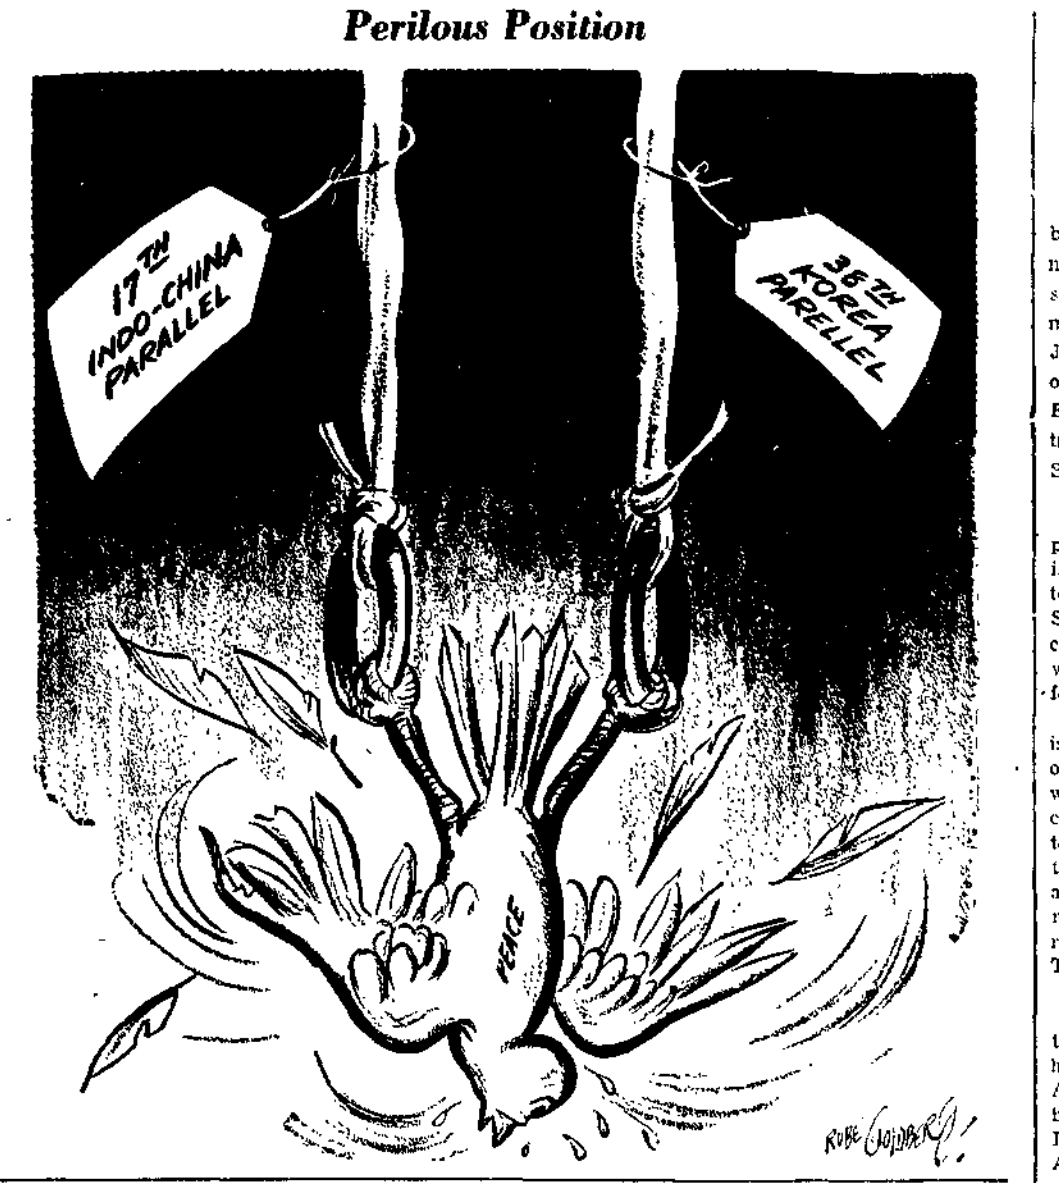
Perilous Position



French Foes Caught Off Guard

By Crosby S. Noyes

PARIS

Political circles were rocking as a result of the latest bold strike of French Premier Mendes-France.

His dramatic weekend flight to Tunisia and the sweeping political reforms which he proposes for the strife - torn protectorate have brought his regime face to face with its first serious crisis at home.

Mendes-France's political enemies have now recovered from their initial surprise sufficiently to yell for his scalp. The debate that will surely follow in the National Assembly will be bitter.

Of all the problems that confronted the premier from the outset of his regime, the problem of North Africa most worried his close supporters. There seemed to be no possible solution to the increasing violence in Tunisia and Morocco that did not involve great political risks at home.

-:-

THE GOVERNMENT, like those before it, was trapped between two powerful groups of extremists. On one hand there were ultranationalist Arabs who would settle at nothing short of complete independence and an end to French rule in North Africa. On the other were vociferous French colonists who saw in every attempted reform a sell-out of their interests.

Meanwhile, the situation was becoming critical. Bombings and shootings in Tunisia and Morocco were on the increase. Demands of colonists for more protection were becoming shriller.

Finally, with the settlement of the Suez dispute between Britain and Egypt, the whole attention of militant Arab nationalism was turning to French North Africa.

Mendes-France planned his move like a general planning an attack. His main weapons were surprise and boldness. Before the opposition in both camps had the slightest inkling of what was coming, Mendes-France was in Tunis after a secret midnight plane trip. A few hours later the bey of Tunis had the proposal of the French government.

Internal autonomy of the state of Tunisia was proclaimed without reserve.

-:-

ON THE OTHER hand French interests in Tunisia must be recognized and further outbreaks of violence would be met with the most ruthless sanctions.

Then Tuesday, Tahar Ben Amar, a nationalist, became premier of a regime empowered to negotiate for self-government.

This kind of decisive action by the French government is virtually unheard of. As Mendes-France had expected, the first reaction was a universal gasp of surprise. Then gradually critics and supporters found their voices again and the fun started.

Moderate nationalists in Tunisia hailed the move with joy as the first step to the independence they have long demanded. Outraged French colonial newspapers cried "sellout" and demanded vengeance in the National Assembly.

In Paris editorial comment split widely. Communists were without instructions on what line to take and saying little one way or other.

The rightest newspaper Aurore, which has been friendly to Mendes-France until now, denounce the secrecy of the move as "intolerable" and a "piecemeal surrender" by the government.

The editor of Figaro applauds loudly: "The rapidity of his trip, the determination that it reflected. . . his hand generously extended, the moderation of his tone, the vigor of the offer, the firmness of the threat—everything contributed to produce an impression. It is the style of a chief of government."

Less eloquent but perhaps more typical of the average Frenchman's reaction was the comment of a young man as he read his morning newspaper:

"Formidable: 'It's been a long time since we've heard this kind of talk around here.' "

Bonn Needed a McCarthy

By NORMAN LINDHURST

BONN

West Germans who once derided American "circus" searches for subversion today were conceding that the "tortured" Dr. Otto John should have been labeled a security risk.

Shaken government officials who considered themselves expert anti-Communists were coming around to agreement that the West German "FBI" head who is now in Communist hands would probably not have held his job in the U.S It is generally conceded that the political security chief drank too much and talked too much.

John associated with men known to be Communist agents, even after repeated warnings by Allied security officials. One of his closest friends described him as "tortured," and "an odd blend of sincerity and deception."

John's past record, as a participant in the 1944 bomb plot against Hitler and a valuable agent for the British in the war's closing days, was spotless and impressive. Made chief of West Germany's internal security office in 1950, he had tracked down Communist plotters so energetically there had been complaints in Parliament his method showed the gestapo touch.

Yet some of his best friends, by the strict American "risk" definitions, made him a bad security bet.

Until John shocked West Germany July 20 by turning up on the other side of the Iron Curtain under circumstances still unsatisfactorily explained, the Bonn government had scoffed at the security-risk type of investigation of appointments to government posts. In this it received encouragement from certain American officials who agreed the U.S was unnecessarily preoccupied with internal security questions.

Further, until recently Allied influence was so great on appointments to sensitive posts in the West German government that it was difficult to fix clear-cut re*sponsibility. Typical is the John* case, in which the Germans contend that John was actually a British choice, and the British deny it.

For some time even before John disappeared, there had been warnings that the Bonn Republic was headed for a security disaster. Because of its exposed position and peculiar political atmosphere, West Germany always has been a counterintelligence agent's nightmare.

The German press has charged on several occasions that Communist sympathizers holding key posts in American military government in the early days of the occupation had established Ger*man Communists in important* administrative posts on a wholesale basis.

There had also been demands for the creation of an investigating committee on the model headed by Sen. McCarthy. But the Wisconsin Republican to most Germans had been director-in-chief of the American security-risk "circus." An incidental by-product of the John case is a rise here in the prestige of McCarthy, who had been considered a headline-hunting latecomer in the fight against the Communist peril.

Now, with a respected man unsuspected of Communist leanings broadcasting—either willingly or unwillingly—from East Germany, the West Germans are questioning their old security rule that a man either was a Communist or he wasn't. The Hamburg Bild Zeitung, with 1,000,000-daily circulation, best reflected the changed attitude:

"John — the man who watched us all. Why wasn't he watched? The man who was to guarantee our security — why wasn't he jailed?

"The man against whom we were warned time and again—why wasn't he detected earlier? Are there still others like him in our government?"

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

One Crisis After Another

It would seem that all that could be said has been said concerning Christian Dior's determination to de-emphasize the bosom, but discussion continues to rate high up with the arguments over Suez, Indochina, West Germany and Joe McCarthy. We can't understand why it has occasioned no Senate hearings. How come Ralph Flanders hasn't come through with a resolution? How do you explain the silence of Adlai Stevenson on this controversial issue?

It is clearly a matter for a congressional probe, with great video possibilities. The issue is this: Can France, so hesitant on other matters, dictate a bosom policy for America? Should we allow Paris to walk out on Indochina and Dagmar at the same moment? Must we sit idly by and allow her to show scorn for the EDC and Marilyn Monroe?

Washington is for action, but the big question is whether England will stand by us in defiance of Dior and his views on the female form or will it charge that America is taking a reckless course if it refuses a seat to those who want to bring back the flat-chested woman. Is this the hour for Washington to take a new look at the bosom situation and perhaps decide on massive retaliation against those who would repudiate the trend started by Lana Turner? These are grave problems.

We think the American woman is as easy on the eyes as she ever was. When has she seemed healthier, more wholesome or more charming? As of today she has gone about the limit in bosom emphasis anyhow, without being sued by Bali Bali for infringement. The point is that the American girl's bosom is her own affair and does not constitute a situation of international aspects calling for observation teams, study groups, commissions and world programs.

Woman is here to stay. (Whether this is true of "falsies" remains to be determined.) But the issue must not be allowed to become an election issue or a cause of further global misunderstandings. We trust the matter will not reach "Meet the Press," "Forum of the Air" or "Youth Wants to Know." Dior will get nowhere in any "The bust must go" ultimatum. In the words of Horatius Persimmins, America's poet laureate of the timely topics division:

Benefits Restored

New Law Reduces Taxes on Dividends

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than seven million corporation stockholders will share in the most controversial tax cut in all the 1,000 pages of the new tax revision bill.

After talking about it for years, Congress finally has restored a special tax benefit on dividends. It will reduce revenues an estimated 204 million dollars the first year, up to 363 millions in later years.

Fifth of a Series

Dividend income received special treatment under tax laws until 1936, when Democrats struck it out in the heydey of the "New Deal." The new tax cut is a symbol of the return to power of Republican tax philosophy.

—:—

IT IS FAR less than recommended by the Eisenhower administration, but it is still substantial and it re-establishes the principle.

The tax cut is two-edged::

First, you pay no taxes on the first $50 of dividends received each year. You can automatically exclude this $50 from your income for tax purposes.

Second, you get a "tax credit"—a further direct tax cut—of 4 per cent of your remaining dividend income.

The timing is important this year. The $50 deduction applies to dividends dated last Jan. 1, or thereafter. The 4 per cent credit applies only to dividends received after last Saturday—July 31.

There is a limit to the amount you can claim under the 4 per cent dividend tax credit.

On your 1954 tax return, due next April 15, you can't claim dividend credit totaling more than 2 per cent of your "taxable" income, which is your income after all deductions and exemptions—the final figure on which the tax rate is applied.

—:—

IN FUTURE years, you can't claim a dividend tax credit of more than 4 per cent of your taxable income.

So if most or all your income is from dividends, you probably won't be able to get the full 4 per cent credit.

And you can't get any tax cut on dividends received from mutual savings banks or building and loan associations, life insurance companies, foreign corporations, nonprofit cooperatives, or mutual insurance companies. These firms already are either tax-free, or not taxed as heavily as most corporations.

If a husband and wife both have dividend income, and they file a joint reurn, they can deduct dividends received by each of them up to $50, for a total deduction of $100.

But if the wife receives $35 in dividends and the husband $65, They can deduct only $85—the $50 maximum for the husband and the $35 for the wife.

Here are examples of how all this adds up on tax returns::

Say you have a family of four with $9,500 regular income and $1,000 income from dividends—a total of $10,500.

Both husband and wife have more than $50 in dividends, so first you subtract the $100 dividend exclusion, leaving $10,400 in income.

Then you subtract your $2,400 in personal exemptions and the standard personal deduction of $1,000, leaving taxable income of $7,000.

—:—

YOUR REGULAR tax rate would run to a tax bill of $1,460. But now you take 4 per cent of the $900 in dividends left after your exclusion. This is $36, which is subtracted from $1,460 to leave a final tax payment of $1,424.

The dividend provision saved you $58—$22 on your $100 exclusion, and $36 on your 4 per cent credit.

The administration argues all this will encourage public investment in stocks, and that this will help business expand and create more and better jobs for everybody. Republicans protest corporation profits are taxed twice—first under the corporation tax rate, and again under personal rates when passed out as dividends.

Opponents argue 80 per cent of the dividend tax cut, or 290 million dollars, will go to six-tenths of 1 per cent of American families. They say this is an unjustified special benefit to wealthy persons.

Jury Charges Woman Killed Two Daughters

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Thelma Watson, accused of having killed two of her four daughters as they slept a week ago, was indicted yesterday by the grand jury on a charge of second-degree murder.

Her trial is scheduled to be held in the April 1955 term of Common Pleas Court.

Mrs. Watson, who also shot herself, still is under treatment at Clinton County Memorial Hospital.

The slain children were Barbara Alene, 13, and Rita Mae, 9. Two other daughters, Catherine, 11, and Jenny Lea, six months, were not harmed.

The husband and father, Ray Watson, who was in the house at the time of the shooting, has said he knew of no reason for his wife's action.

Election Lost, Former POW Goes Berserk

LEXINGTON, Tenn. (AP)—A Korean War veteran—whose wife married another man while he was a POW—went on a shooting spree here early today after losing the election for sheriff.

A patrolman was killed and the police chief wounded seriously.

Patrolman Isaac McHagen said the shooting was done by Ex-Sgt. James A. Cogburn, 33. His young wife married James Hern while Cogburn was being held by the Communists.

McHagen said Cogburn and another man were firing in today's wild spree, but that it was Cogburn who fatally shot patrolman Arthur Gurley, 50, and wounded Police Chief Clovis Stanfill, 34.

Stanfill was taken in serious condition to a hospital at nearby Jackson.

Cogburn received a little more than 200 votes out of 3,000 cast in yesterday's general election for sheriff of Henderson county.

Cogburn and his companion fled on foot after wrecking their car in a ditch on the outskirts of town. A posse took up the search.

While Cogburn was overseas, his wife married Hern and had a child by Hern before Cogburn returned home. When the sergeant came back, Mrs. Cogburn-Hern elected to stay with her second husband.

Cogburn subsequently divorced her. Then she remarried Hern in another ceremony.

Hospital attendants said it was hoped the drugs would interrupt and finally stop the rhythm of the sneezing.

A GOWN of Chantilly lace and nylon net was worn by Miss Phyllis Ann Niggemeyer for her marriage to Robert Francis Murphy, Monday morning, in St. Mary Catholic Church. Rev. Robert Gately, assistant pastor, officiated for the ceremony and was the celebrant of the nuptial high mass at 9:30 o'clock.

The gold altar vases held bouquets of white gladioli and at the altar rail were baskets of blue delphinium and white gladioli. White satin ribbon bows marked the family pews.

THE BRIDE is the daughter of Chester Niggemeyer of 188 Johnson St. and the late Mrs. Niggemeyer and the bridegroom's father is Dr. F. V. Murphy of 991 Uhler Rd.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her waltz-length skirt fashioned of tiers of lace and nylon net, fell from a fitted lace bodice and the long fitted sleeves tapered to points over her hands. A cap of the lace accented with pearls and sequins, held her fingertip veil of bridal illusion and she carried a white orchid with satin streamers caught with ivy and carnation petals, on a white prayerbook. Her jewelry was cultured pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Attending the bride were Miss Mary Nicolosi, who was the maid of honor and Miss Judy Rinehart of Columbus, bridesmaid. Their gowns were in a light blue shade, styled with ballerina-length skirts of tulle, bodices of antique silk shantung and matching short sleeved jackets. They carried bouquets of white baby chrysanthemums and wore headbands of blue flowers.

George Edward Murphy served as best man for his brother, and ushers were the bride's brother, Robert Niggemeyer and Jack Cooper.

A breakfast for the immediate families was at Dixie's tearoom where tables were decorated with blue and white flowers, the bride's wedding colors.

—:—

IN THE AFTERNOON the bride's father was host at a reception at his home. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Henry Niggemeyer, wore a flowered print sheer costume with white accessories and Mrs. Frank V Murphy was costumed in a charcoal gray cotton faille with lace and pearl edging accenting the scoop neckline and pockets. Both wore corsages of white roses and astilbe.

White flowers were in bouquets throughout the rooms and assisting as hostesses were Miss Helen Lawler, Mrs. John Kessler, Mrs. John Johnson, Mrs. Keith Stanley and Mrs. Margaret Rinehart.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to Florida the bride was wearing a gray and white suit of corded faille and red accessories. They will make their home at 125 S. Grand Ave.

The bride was graduated from St. Mary's High School and until recently was employed in the office of Dr. James A. McGlew.

Mr. Murphy is a graduate of Marmion Military Academy and attended Xavier University. He served in the U. S. Army prior to engaging in the insurance business.

Kirchner of Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wisler, Mrs. Robert Cass, of Galion: Mrs. Richard Edmondson of New York City; Mr. and Mrs. George Loreno of Sandusky; Miss Nelle Hanley of Chicago.

—:—

DR. AND MRS. FRANK V. Murphy were hosts for the rehearsal dinner in their home on Uhler Rd. At this time Miss Niggemeyer gave her attendants pearl chokers and Mr. Murphy presented the best man and ushers with leather billfolds.

The bride was complimented with a number of showers before her marriage. Murphy Jr., were hostesses for a luncheon at Dixie's tearoom and Mrs. James A. McGlew entertained with a luncheon at her home on Cambridge Ave.

Workers Vote Down Pay Cut At Studebaker

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Some 5,000 workers at Studebaker Corp. last night turned down a 15 per cent pay cut which International CIO United Auto Workers officials urged them to take to protect their jobs.

With only half of the firm's workers voting, a 3 to 2 margin was given against taking the decrease in a show-of-hands vote which followed a heated 2½ hour meeting.

Paul G. Hoffman, Studebaker's board chairman, previously announced salaries to top executives had been cut 20 to 30 per cent in what he called a multi-million-dollar economy drive which started last Arpil.

He added that 12 per cent of Studebaker's executive personnel had been cut since the drive started and that the program has saved about 10 million dollars on an annual basis.

Addressing the workers at the meeting were Louis J. Horvath, president of Studebaker Local 5, and other international officials. All recommended the pay cut and other contract revisions.

The union officials said the cut would offer hope of stabilizing employment and increase overall take-home pay.

Most of Studebaker's departments have only been operating four days every fortnight since early this year. Employment has been cut in half:

"Most of the workers just couldn't seem to accept a pay reduction after averaging only $35 a week for the last six months," said Horvath.

The company made no comment after the union action.

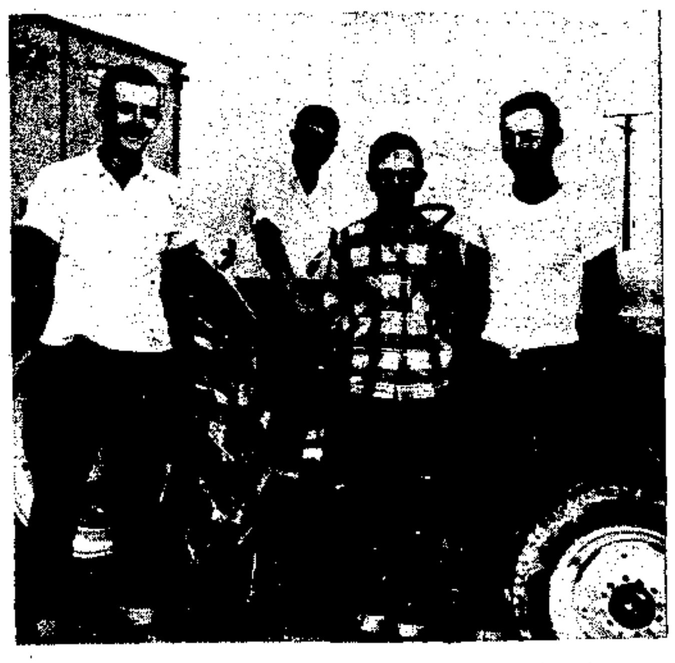
Average wages at Studebaker are estimated at $2.37 an hour compared with $2.07 for Ford, General Motors, and Chrysler.

Hoffman said that had the union accepted the 15 per cent cut, it would have dropped labor costs of a $2,000 automobile by $60 to $75.

POSTMASTER APPOINTED

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has sent to the Senate the nomination of John Chester Ward to be postmaster at Mount Vernon, Ohio.

Tractor Finalists Chosen



ABOUT 20 BOYS, all members of Marion County 4-H Clubs, took part Thursday in the tractor driving contest which determined the four most skillful tractor riders in the county.

Earl Harrison of New Bloomington, shown on the tractor, was judged best in the preliminary contest Thursday. The three boys who will compete against him Aug. 25 at the fairgrounds are standing in front of the tractor. They are (left to right) Lowell Murphy, Meeker, who was second, Howard Seckel, Claridon who placed fourth, and John Forry of Morral who was judged third.

Judging Thursday was done by seven 4-H Club advisors from throughout the county. They were Arthur Bish of Green Camp, Ernest Gast of Prospect, Donald Virden of Montgomery, Carl Seiter of Big Island, Tom Knickel of Prospect, Fred Theiken of Waldo, and James Johnston of New Bloomington.

The winner of the tractor driving contest at the local fair will go to the State Fair to compete in a state-wide contest. That will be held on Saturday of state fair week.

FCC Relaxes Rules Covering Video Stations

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission FCC has relaxed two rules in a move, promptly questioned by one of its own members, to encourage ultra high frequency (UHF) television.

Miss Frieda B. Hennock said the action would render "the final mortal blow to UHF."

Miss Hennock, only woman member of the commission, has suggested shifting all television to UHF channels. Most television stations now operate on very high frequency (VHF), and ordinary home sets have been built for VHF reception.

The commission majority announced yesterday that as of Sept. 1:

1. UHF stations may be licensed even though they will not originate local programs.

2. Any station, UHF or VHF, may establish side UHF stations in adjoining communities to rebroadcast its programs over a wide area.

FCC files indicate 73 of the 309 UHF permits issued in the last two years have been surrendered. In announcing the rules changes, the commission majority said high costs of local programming have discouraged many otherwise interested in UHF operation.

The order also noted that waiving the rule against ownership of more than one station in the same area would, in the terms specified, merely extend service of the originating station.

Miss Hennock, who previously has contended big networks monopolize the television industry, countered that this would mean "powerful and well established VHF stations can put struggling UHF stations out of business overnight by placing a new booster or satelite in the UHF's back yard."

CASH, NARCOTICS STOLEN
